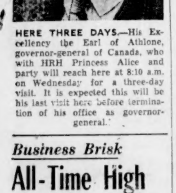
ADOLF HITLER DEAD

Admiral Doenitz Says Germany to Fight On



HERE THREE DAYS.—His Excellency the Earl of Athlone, governor-general of Canada, who with HRH Princess Alice and party will reach here at 8:10 a.m. on Wednesday for a three-day visit. It is expected this will be his last visit here before termination of his office as governor-general.

LONDON, May 1.—(CP and BUP)—The German radio announced tonight Hitler is dead. The German radio said that Hitler "fell fighting for Germany till his last breath." The radio said Grand Admiral Karl Doeni'z, commander of the German Navy, has succeeded Hitler. Doenitz himself announced the death of Hitler.

The Hamburg radio said Hitler was killed this afternoon in his command post at the Reich's Chancellery in Berlin.

"At the Fuehrer's headquar'ers it is reported that our Fuehrer Adolf Hitler has fallen this afternoon in his command post at the Reich's Chancellery, fight'ng up to his last breath against Bolshevism," said the announcement.

The broadcast said Admiral Karl Doenitz, commander of the German fleet, was Hitler's successor.

The radio broadcast a statement from Doenitz in which he said:

"My first task will be to save Germany from the advancing Bolsheviks. Only for this do we continue to fight."

"Give me your confidence," Doenitz appealed to the German people. "Keep calm and be disciplined. Only in that way will we be able to stave off defeat."

The announcement said Hitler had appointed Doenitz April 30 (yesterday) as his successor.

"Fighting now is going on," Doenitz was quoted, "to save the German people. We shall have to fight on against the Anglo-Americans."

No mention was made of Heinrich Himmler, Gestapo chief who had been dickering in an attempt to surrender what remained of Germany to Britain and the United States but was turned down because he did not include Russia in his offer.

Business Brisk

All-Time High Reached in City Property Sales

Sales of city-owned land during April created an all time record with $115,158 being taken in by the city land department compared with $98,000 for the same month of last year, according to a report filed Tuesday with the city commissioners by John Paterson, city land department superintendent. This is the third successive month that land sales have set new all time records.

Sales for the first four months of this year total $404,531, compared with $257,302 for the same period last year, an increase of $147,229.

Rents collected during April by the city land department totalled $14,604, compared with $14,627 for the same month last year. Total rentals collected during the four-month period of 1945 was $58,219 compared with $54,262 in the same period last year.

Tax collections for the first four months of 1915 were $2,129,-976.99 compared with $1,915,316.76, an increase of $224,609.83. The collections for the first four months set an all-time record.

During April the collections were $172,627.65 compared with $150,-909.15 for the same month last year, an increase of $21,728.50.

Land sales are continuing brisk, and Tuesday the land department was flooded with prospective purchasers, and it is anticipated that a further record will be achieved during May judging by the volume of sales being put through on the opening day of the sale and from inquiries being made for residential property.

Deny New Offer of Surrender Carried by Swedish Emissary

From CP, AP and BUP Dispatches

ADVANCED BATTLE HEADQUARTERS, AEF, Germany, May 1.—Hope of any immediate cessation of hostilities on the Western Front faded today with a Swedish Foreign Office denial that Count Folke Bernadotte, Swedish emissary reputed to be negotiating with Heinrich Himmler for Germany's surrender, had brought back new peace offers to be transmitted to the Allies through the Stockholm government.

Bernadotte conferred with Himmler ten days ago and reputedly brought an offer of surrender to the British and American forces. This was rejected and the Gestapo chief informed that it was surrender unconditionally to all the Allies or to none.

Now Bernadotte has been back in Denmark, presumably to take the answer to Himmler, and the Free Danish underground movement reports that he had all-night conferences with Danish and German representatives.

But the Swedish Foreign Office says no new offer has resulted from these conferences.

Bernardotte refused to give details of any of his discussions with Himmler, beyond the fact that they met ten days ago at the Baltic seaport of Luebeck, obviously to discuss the Allied demand that Germany surrender unconditionally to Britain, the United States and Russia.

NO NEW REPLY

He stated that no new reply from Himmler had been transmitted to the Allies through the Swedish government, but there is still a possibility that Bernadotte may com-

Hint Agreement

Say Germans In Denmark, Norway to Quit

STOCKHOLM, May 1.—(AP)—Count Folke Bernadotte flew back to Stockholm from Copenhagen today and a well-informed American said he might be bearing a German-Swedish agreement for peaceful surrender of German troops in both Denmark and Norway.

Danish underground sources in Sweden reported German troops already were moving out of Sjaelland, the island on which Copenhagen is situated, toward southern Jutland.

A Danish radio broadcast from Malmo recorded in Stockholm said the Germans had evacuated the Sjaellan town of Slagelse, Nastved and Hilerood and that German Red Cross workers were en route to Copenhagen to care for German refugees. It urged Danes to be calm.

The American informant said that whether a final agreement on procedure in Norway had been reached was still uncertain, but he expressed belief the Swedes had proposed or that the Germans had requested transportation for their Norwegian forces to Sweden for disarmament.

Aussie Troops Battle Against Japs in Borneo

CANBERRA, May 1.—(CP)—Treasury Minister Joseph B. Chifley told the House of Representatives tonight that a famous division of Australian troops which had fought in the middle east now was participating in an action against the Japanese in Borneo.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 1.—(AP)—Tokyo radio today claimed Allied assault forces had landed on Borneo.

The broadcast, recorded by the Federal Communications Commission, said invaders hit the east coast in the Tarakan area last night and were engaged by defending garrisons in "fierce combat."

As usual in reporting such landings the Japanese broadcast declaimed that the attackers were repulsed.

American planes have bombed the oil rich island every day of April. Tarakan is a small island off the northeast coast of Borneo, an easy jump from American-

Churchill Hints in Commons Peace Possible by Saturday

By LEWIS HAWKINS

LONDON, May 1.—(AP)—Prime Minister Churchill hinted today that announcement of peace in Europe might come before Saturday, but told a packed House of Commons that he had no statement at this time.

He answered questions in the house as Count Folke Bernadotte conferred in Stockholm with Erik Boheman, undersecretary of state in the Swedish foreign office, after flying from Copenhagen.

The Swedish Count refused to tell reporters whether he had brought a new message from Heinrich Himmler. There were no signs that he had made a contact with Allied representatives in Stockholm, but such contact most likely would be established through the Swedish foreign office.

(A Reuters News Agency Stockholm dispatch, however, said the Swedish radio reported that Count Bernadotte brought with him a new capitulation offer from Himmler.)

(Reuters said later, however, that the Swedish foreign office denied that the Count had brought with him a new capitulation offer.)

Replying to a member's question, Mr. Churchill declared, "I have no special statement to make on the war position in Europe except that it is definitely more satisfactory than it was at this time five years ago."

Promises to Make Announcement

Mr. Churchill said that if information of exceptional importance "reaches the government during the sittings of the house this week—as it might do," he would make a brief announcement.

"With regard to the condition and requisition which would occur if an announcement on decisive consequence justifying celebration were to be made this week or at any time in the future, and V-E Day was announced, a number of arrangements have been prepared, and will be issued tonight in a home office circular," he said.

The implication that peace might come before the house rises for the week on Friday evening was the nearest to prediction that Mr. Churchill permitted himself.

"Of course," he said, "I shall make no statement here that is not in accord with the statement which will be made by our allies," explaining such announcements would be made only after consulting military commanders in different theatres.

WON'T DELAY NEWS

Fascist Forces In North Italy Ordered to Quit

ROME, May 1.—(AP)—Unconditional surrender of the Fascist Ligurian army in Italy was ordered Sunday by Marshal Rodolfo Graziani after his capture by the Allies, headquarters announced tonight.

He ordered troops of this Italian army holding the Ligurian coast in northwest Italy to lay down their arms.

ROME, May 1.—(BUP)—Allied Armies in northern Italy today continued to slash through broken enemy ranks toward junctions with French, American and Jugoslav forces to the west, north and east.

Fifteenth army group forces were within 139 miles of the seventh American Army on the north, 32½ miles from the French on the west, and less than 50 from the Jugoslavs.

"Troops of the 15th Army Group continue to slash demoralized enemy forces throughout north Italy," said today's communique reporting new gains to the north and east.

Warmer Weather Arrives in City

The warmest day since last October was Monday with an average temperature of 49 above. On the last day April managed to come through with weather that really felt like spring with temperatures climbed to 65 above.

The forecast is "Clear and cool tonight, bright and warm Wednesday," with the estimated high for today 55.

A trace of rain was recorded Monday afternoon when a brief heavy shower, accompanied by a 40-mile-an-hour wind, sent office workers and shoppers scurrying to the shelter of doorways.

Estimated overnight low is 35, and the high tomorrow, 65.

Many Hold-Ups

Little Progress Is Made First Week of Conference

By FRANK FLAHERTY

SAN FRANCISCO, May 1.—(CP)—The United Nations Security Conference today concludes its first week with little progress to show toward its objective of writing an agreement for world organization and post-war security.

Because of differences of opinion between the Russian delegation and the majority over the recognition of the Lublin government, the permanent chairmanship and admission of a delegation from Argentina, and because of the long program of speeches by each of the leaders of the 46 attending delegations, actual organization for business has been delayed.

The Polish question remains unsettled, with Great Britain and the United States resolutely opposing admission of Lublin representatives until that government has been broadened in accordance with the Yalta agreement.

The chairmanship question has been settled through a compromise which makes the delegation leaders of the United Kingdom, United States, Russia and China—the countries sponsoring the meeting—act in rotation as presiding officer-

Plan Start Work On New Hospital

Work on the new tuberculosis hospital on the university campus will start this summer under present plans, Hon. Dr. W. W. Cross, minister of health and public welfare, said Tuesday.

It is hoped that the work can be completed in 1946, but it will probably be two years before the hospital will be ready to function.

The new hospital is to have at least 300 beds.

How the work is to be done has not yet been decided. Tenders may be called on the department of public works may carry out the construction.

It Says Here

by Bob Hope

SAN FRANCISCO, May 1.—The Russian influence is really being reflected here at the United Nations conference; in fact, when he heard they were meeting in San Francisco, even the mayor of Los Angeles began seeing red.

The Soviet group is headed by Foreign Commissar Molotov. Molotov—that's a diplomatic term meaning "I came here to talk for Joe."

BOB HOPE

A part of the delegation is White Russian. Those are the ones who have found out what they are being charged for their rooms. But I didn't realize how the whole town had succumbed to the Russian atmosphere until I walked into Omar Khayyam's restaurant here. The head waiter used to stand at the door with a jug of wine and a book of verses. This week he greets you with a quart of vodka and the lyrics to Dark Eyes. Even the cable car crews have caught the Soviet spirit. They used to roll up Powell street warbling the trolley song. Now when you get on, the conductor gives a big grunt and the passengers swing into the first eight bars of the Volga Boatman. And the policemen are acting like the chorus out of the Ballet Russe. When you ask them a direction, they don't tell you . . . they fold their arms, jump high in the air and point toward it with their toe.

When I saw the service the Russians are getting I figured it would be a good way to get a room, so I put on a beard and walked over to a hotel manager leading a Siberian wolf hound. I bowed and said "Tovarich." He bowed and said, "Hope, you're getting jerkier every year."

Ex-Dictator, Mistress Secretly Buried

Mussolini Rests in Potters' Field

By JAMES E. ROPER
Exclusive to The Edmonton Bulletin

MILAN, May 1. — (BUP) — Benito Mussolini and his mistress, Clara Petacci, were buried secretly in unmarked graves in the Potters' Field of the Maggiore cemetery late yesterday, it was revealed.

Former Fascist party secretary Achille Starace, who was executed yesterday, was interred a short distance away in the same plot of ground.

The only witnesses to the ignominious burials were 15 members of the cemetery staff who were sworn to secrecy to prevent mobs from learning the graves' location and possibly exhuming the remains of the former dictator.

The three bodies were in rough unpainted pine coffins, the tops of which were screwed on.

A military chaplain offered a brief Catholic benediction for all three as they were lowered into the ground.

An Italian Red Cross truck had transported the three bodies from the morgue to the burial site under some fir trees.

Vittorio Vertova, cemetery director, who supervised the burials, said the brain had been removed from Mussolini's body and criminologists were examining it.

Partisans said the funeral of the man who loved pomp and ceremony so much was a simple one.

Fittingly, the body of the "Sawdust Caesar" rested on sawdust, loosely thrown in the bottom of the coffin. He was nude and his blood-soaked uniform was tossed on top of him.

Hun End Near

May Day Triumph Hailed in Soviet

MOSCOW, May 1.—(AP)—Premier Stalin marked the most triumphant May Day in the history of Soviet Russia today with a resounding general order of the day, proclaiming the imminent end of Hitler's Germany and vowing the destruction of Fascism by the United Nations.

Our country is celebrating May 1—the international holiday of the working people," said his order, addressed to all the armed forces and to the people. "This year the peoples of our Motherland are celebrating May Day under conditions of a victorious termination of a great patriotic war."

He hailed the victory in Berlin, declaring that Soviet troops had "hoisted the banner of victory" over the German capital. He had announced in another order that the Soviet flag flew over Hitler's Reichstag.

"Germany is completely isolated and stands alone, not to count her ally, Japan," he said.

RESORT TO TRICKS

"In search of a way out of their hopeless plight, the Hitlerite adventurers resort to all kinds of tricks, down to flirting with the allies in an effort to cause dissension in the Allied camp. These fresh, knavish tricks of the Hitlerites are doomed to utter failure. They can only accelerate the disintegration of German troops.

"The mendacious Fascist propaganda intimidates the German people with absurd tales alleging that the armies of the United Nations wish to exterminate the German people. The United Nations do not set themselves the task of destroying the German people. The United Nations will destroy fascism and German militarism, will severely punish criminals and will compel the Germans to compensate the damage they caused to other countries. But the United Nations do not molest and will not molest Germany's peaceful population if it honestly fulfills the demands of Allied military authorities."

Marshal Stalin recalled the triumphant march of Soviet armies back from the gates of Moscow and Leningrad, from Grozny and Stalingrad, the victories in Poland, Hungary and Austria, and in "East Prussia—the home of German imperialism."

"The days of Hitlerite Germany are numbered," he said.

Air Bombing Of Germany Has Finished

By RONALD G. BEDFORD

LONDON, May 1.—(Reuters)—The bomber offensive in the form that ravaged Germany for so many years, now has drawn to a close, an RAF commentator said yesterday.

"The targets have been overrun," he added.

At the same time a balance sheet of the successes of the heavy bombers was simultaneously issued by the air ministry and the United States strategic air force chief, Gen. Carl Spaatz in Paris.

Five principal achievements of the bomber offensive were listed:

AIR SUPERIORITY

1. The acquisition and maintenance of air superiority, culminating during the last few weeks.

2. The virtual cessation of oil and gasoline production in Germany as a result of a 12-month campaign during which over-all German oil production was reduced to 7½ per cent of what it was in 1944. Gasoline production went down 3½ per cent in the same period.

3. The paralysis of the German army by the process of encircling it and cutting it to pieces by strafing.

4. The successful preparation of land operations such as the crossing of the Rhine.

5. The destruction of launching sites and airfields for flying bombs and jet planes and of experimental factories and research stations to reduce the effectiveness of special weapons revised by the Grmans.

OTTAWA REVIEWS RCAF REQUIREMENTS

OTTAWA, May 1.—(CP)—With dispatches from London and Paris telling of the end of the air war in Europe and in fact hinting at the nearness of German surrender, RCAF planners here were reviewing their reinforcement requirements.

An increased tempo in aerial activities in February and March had seen men completing their tours at a faster rate than had been previously estimated and it was necessary to recall some to the Air Force reserves. These reservists were called back to service "as required" and presumably with the curtailment of activity in Europe requirements will decrease.

RCAF squadrons will go to the Pacific theatre on a re-voluntary basis after spending leave in Canada. Meanwhile Canada will furnish other squadrons for the occupational force in Europe.

What places the reservists will have in this program is not known.

British Resent Russia's Action Austria Govt.

LONDON, May 1. — (CP) — Resentment was apparent in British diplomatic circles yesterday that Russia had failed to consult other Allied powers about the formation of the provisional Austrian government announced Sunday.

A spokesman was cautiously noncommittal, however, about the official attitude of the British government toward the regime of 75-year-old Dr. Karl Renner. The spokesman pointed out that the question of recognition had not yet arisen, and that the British government had had scant time to study the situation.

No U.S. Recognition Vienna Government

WASHINGTON, May 1.—(AP)—The United States government does not recognize the provisional government reported to have been established in Austria under Dr. Karl Renner, the state department said yesterday. At the department, Acting Secretary Grew said the whole question is being taken up with the government of Soviet Russia, whose troops now occupy Vienna.

Hope Is Fading For Quick End Of Europe War

municate direct with the Allied embassies in Stockholm.

However staff officers at this headquarters doubt the possibility of any German leader being able to guarantee the surrender unconditionally of all the Nazi forces, and point out that there is now no co-ordination between the various German fronts and no German High Command in charge anywhere.

Meantime the Battle of Berlin is swinging into its final stages in a welter of blood and slaughter. Red Army storm troopers and fanatical Nazi defenders are battling hand-to-hand among the rubble strewn streets and deep in underground tunnels, and no quarter is being given on either side.

Thousands of unburied dead lie among the ruins, but the hammer and sickle banner of the Red Army flies triumphantly over the Reichstag and a dozen other administrative buildings in the heart of the city where Stalin's storm troopers are hewing out Russia's greatest symbolic victory of the war.

SEEK FULL VICTORY

The Russians would like to bring about the complete capture of Berlin on May Day, but there is no sign the Nazis will give in before the whole of the city is over-run. They have now been compressed into an area about seven miles square, and two Russian Armies are converging on this section for the final assault.

Last minute attempts by the German 9th Army to fight their way into the capital and relieve the beleaguered garrison there have been abandoned because of the ferocity of Russian attacks. The German 4th Army west of Berlin has also had to fight off strong attacks on its flanks, and all attempts to relieve the garrison have now been abandoned.

One try to drop paratroops and ammunition and supplies to the garrison was broken up before it started. No planes got through the Russian air cordon, and this attempt, too, was given up.

Reports lagging well behind the course of the struggle in the heart of Berlin say the Russians battled along Unter den Linden against savage resistance. Soviet assault troops broke through in the vicinity of the Brandenburg gate and stormtroops converged on the Wilhelmstrasse, Friedrichstrasse and Unter den Linden from the east, north and south.

PASSAGE FORCED

Under a night sky which was as dazzling as the midday sun over Berlin two mighty forces locked in combat for several hours on the banks of the Spree. For a time passage appeared impossible, but finally, with flames from thousands of Katusha rocket guns enveloping the Germon-held area a passage was forced, and Tommy gunners swarmed across and stormed the Reichstag.

Another fierce battle raged in the Tiergarten, Berlin's central park, just west of Unter den Linden. It was from an underground fortress beneath the Tiergarten that the German command was directing the fanatic defenders, largely SS troops, Hitler Youth battalions and "Women's Death Battalions".

Here again advances were made as the battle raged within a stone's throw of Hitler's one-time ornate Reichschancellery, the Russian storm troopers battling as fiercely as the fanatical defenders, and literally blasting and burning the latter out of their path.

All reports indicate that the fall of Berlin cannot long be delayed, and it is confidently expected that the Nazi capital will fall before midnight.

On the rest of the Allied fronts general advances continued, for the most part against crumbling or non-existent resistance.

FIGHT BACK IN NORTH

Only in the north where the British 2nd Army and the Canadian 1st Army were fighting their way to the North Sea and the Baltic, were the Germans making any organized resistance.

Breaking out of its Elbe river bridgehead the British 2nd Army stormed to within 20 miles of Lubeck in a new drive to split the northern redoubt and seal off Denmark.

This attack coincided with Swedish reports that the German troops in Denmark were preparing to evacuate Copenhagen and to turn back the administration of the country to King Christian today.

The United Kingdom forces were flanking Hamburg on the east, and its advance was being slowed more by masses of German troops and vehicles retreating west from the Russians than by attempts at resistance. The Germans appeared anxious to escape into Denmark or even to be taken prisoners by the British as an alternative to being overrun by the Red Army advancing from the east.

On the Canadian front in northwestern Germany the Germans have been counter-attacking savagely but have been beaten back. Centres of last-ditch resistance are the E-boat bases at Ijmuiden and the submarine base at Wilhelmshaven, and German naval officers there have boasted that there are enough supplies at these bases and in Denmark and Norway to carry on fighting for another two months.

According to reports filtering across the lines the Nazi navy is refusing to recognize current peace negotiations, but there is evidence that in spite of the boasts of the Nazi officers the fighting spirit in this sector appears to be lagging, and that plans for a withdrawal from the Oldenburg line to shorter defences around Wilhelmshaven are under way.

Both the British 2nd and Canadian 1st Armies are making slow but steady advances, and it is only a matter of time before the whole North Sea coast is in their hands.

BREAK INTO AUSTRIA

In the southern zone of the battlefront U.S. 3rd Army tanks broke into Austria near Ober Kappel, and are advancing to meet the Red Army troops who are coming in from Vienna. A junction of the two armies appears imminent as resistance is negligible.

One U.S. 7th Army column completed the occupation of Munich, cradle of Nazism and capital of Bavaria, against surprisingly light resistance.

The civilian population greeted the Americans with cheers and garlands of flowers, while white flags fluttered from every building in the city.

Another U.S. 7th Army column drove on to Innsbruck, gateway to the Brenner Pass and reached a spot about 30 miles from the pass itself. Here again there was little or no resistance.

TAKE ZEPPELIN CENTRE

On the western flank of the 7th Army the French 1st Army captured the famed Zeppelin centre of Friedrichshaven on Lake Constance, and continued its advance towards Innsbruck.

American 1st and 9th Armies apparently were regrouping after forging new junctions with Russian troops southwest and south of Berlin yesterday, and Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's U.S. 3rd Army was assaulting the northern rim of the German's Bavarian redoubt on a front of nearly 90 miles.

The new push of Patton's troops along the north bank of the Danube is designed to sever Czechoslovakia from the remainder of the redoubt by linking up with the 3rd Ukrainian Army somewhere in the vicinity of Linz, and radio reports from Luxembourg say the puppet Czech government of the Nazi-created "protectorate" of Bohemia and Moravia is trying to negotiate for an Allied occupation of Bohemia without a fight.

In a special order of the day Marshal Stalin announced that in the last four months on the Eastern front the Germans had lost 1,000,000 men killed and 800,000 captured. These latest figures raised German casualties announced by Moscow in less than four years of war to a total of 11,540,000.

SUFFER GREAT LOSSES

He also said that the last four months the enemy had lost to the Red Army alone 6,000 planes, 12,000 tanks and 23,000 heavy guns.

Other Russian victories far to the south were also announced from Moscow. The 4th Ukrainian Army of Gen. Andrei I. Yeremenko seized Moravska-Ostrava, vital war centre, and cavalry of the 2nd Ukrainian Army plunged through the Morava river valley toward a junction that will roll up the German salient in eastern Moravia.

North of Berlin Marshal Rokossovsky's 2nd White Russian Army and elements of Marshal Zhukov's 1st White Russian Army are speeding across the north German plain on a 100-mile front.

In their advance they shattered the enemy line on the Ytralsund-Berlin railway, and captured Griefswald and Wolgast, cutting the last rail and highway links with the island of Usedom, on which are located the important Baltic naval base of Swinemuende and Peenemuende, site of the V-bomb experimental station.

Griefswald is 18 miles southeast of the Baltic port of Stralsund.

Dieppe Officers May Be Liberated

By ROSS MUNRO

WITH THE 1st CANADIAN ARMY, May 1.—(CP)—Most Canadian officers of the 2nd Division captured in the 1942 Dieppe raid may have been freed yesterday when the U.S. 3rd Army liberated a prisoner-of-war camp containing 110,000 Allied prisoners at Moosburg, 25 miles northeast of Munich.

When the Canadian Dieppe officers were marched south from Oflag 7B at Eichstaat, 40 miles southeast of Nuernberg, April 15, it was believed they were taken to Moosburg.

Full Taxation Pool Elevators Asked in Brief

penses for income tax purposes. Any change in the tax legislation which would make such dividends allowable as deductable expense would have to be made applicable to all businesses and thus would enable all taxpayers in business to vary the amounts of their taxable income at will from time to time.

"In times of high taxes—that is, when the government urgently needs tax money—prodigal payments of patronage dividends could be made by taxpayers at very little or no cost to themselves," the association's brief said.

"The cost would be borne by the public treasury. In times of low taxes these taxpayers could restrict or eliminate the payment of patronage dividends and thus build up their surplus accounts at small cost to themselves."

The association referred to reports that if the wheat pools were not allowed exemption they would operate their business in a manner which would provide no income or profits.

CHARGES REDUCED

"Their recent reduction of charges for elevator services is indicative of a decision to adopt this course, at least for the time being," the brief continued. "It may be that co-operatives have the right to use this method of doing business, although the adoption of such a policy would seem to be unwise and, in time of war, most prejudicial to the public interest.

"A private enterprise, as distinguished from co-operative enterprises, can hope to survive in the face of this type of competition only by using up reserves which should be kept intact and available for the post-war reconstruction period and for legitimate expansion and development. Once such reserves are used up private enterprise will be unable to continue in business and the co-operatives will have the entire trade to themselves.

". . . In short, as long as the pools do not pay their taxes all those who do pay are supporting the pools and aiding and assisting them in business. As a result our members are being required to support and maintain competitors whose policies are designed to eliminate such members from the grain trade."

CUT HANDLING CHARGES

At another point in its submission the association said action of the pools in "reducing handling charges below the cost of rendering the services involved" was detrimental to the public interest, because it would reduce to negligible amounts the income thus earned by the grain trade and if continued would drive out private enterprise.

"The inevitable consequences of continuance . . . will be that only the pools will survive, thus acquiring a monopoly of the grain trade," the association said.

There was no basic difference between the ordinary joint stock company and the pools and the use which a corporation made of its profits had in principle no bearing on the taxation to which it was subject. A corporation which gave all its profits to charity was still subject to tax.

EXPANSION CITED

Citing expansion into various subsidiary activities by the Saskatchewan Wheat Pool, the association said, "actually there is no limit to the businesses and ventures in which the pools may engage if they are allowed to continue to earn, free of tax, the profits of millions of dollars which they have made in the last 14 years."

The association said its members owned 54 per cent of the country elevators in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta and also controlled 21 terminal elevators.

Molotov May Soon Return to Moscow

By PAUL SCOTT RANKINE

SAN FRANCISCO, May 1—(Reuters)—Possibility of Foreign Commissar Molotov being obliged to return to Moscow in the near future in view of European military and political developments was widely discussed here last night.

Pointing to the fact Molotov is continuing to make engagements here for the next few days, a Russian official said the whole diplomatic situation now is in such a fluid condition from hour to hour that it is impossible for anyone in Mr. Molotov's position to make "firm" plans.

It was stated Mr. Molotov's possible change of plan was not related to the defeat of Russia on the Argentina question, nor to any other conference difficulties.

The Japanese broadcast said: "In the Tarakan area on the east coast of Borneo Japanese garrisons are engaged in fierce combat with enemy forces that landed late last night under cover of off-shore bombardment. Previously at noon yesterday a landing attempt was repulsed."

In another broadcast Radio Tokyo said "enemy units" shelled and bombarded Car Nicobar island in the Indian Ocean Sunday afternoon and Port Blair in the Andaman islands to the north Sunday night. Presumably the ships were of the British East Indies fleet.

The broadcast, recorded by the FCC, declared two aircraft carriers and two battleships formed the nucleus of the task force that bombarded Car Nicobar while two battleships were the nucleus of the fleet that shelled Port Blair.

Car Nicobar and the Andamans are west of Malaya and south of Burma.

Girl Is Arrested On Theft Charges

Edmonton's alleged "Lone Wolverine" was behind bars on Tuesday. Said by city police to be Edna Gardecki, well-known to the department, she was followed into a north end theatre about 7 p.m. Monday by two city detectives, and placed under arrest. A number of charges of theft were to be laid against her, police said.

Taken by the accused to her lodging place at 107 avenue and 97 street, police discovered a portion of goods allegedly stolen from the various housewives in the city who had employed the woman at housework. After staying for a short time, she would disappear—at which time articles of clothing and sums of money would be found missing.

Appearing before Magistrate L. R. Jackson in city police court Tuesday morning, the accused entered no plea and the case was adjourned until Friday. A number of charges will yet be laid against her, the court was informed.

Fascist Forces In North Italy Ordered to Quit

Nazis were trying desperately to keep open to let their remnants escape into the Bavarian redoubt. Seventh Army forces in Austria were within 12 miles of Innsbruck, the northern Gateway, and 29 miles from the pass itself.

On the west, French forces slashing across the Italian frontier were reported only 22½ miles from Turin, taken by 5th Army troops yesterday.

A communique from Marshal Tito's headquarters reported that Jugoslav forces still were battling the Germans in the streets of the Italian port city. Street fighting also was reported in Fiume, where Tito claimed the German 188th and 237th division were surrounded and in the process of being destroyed.

POLITICAL BATTLE

Meanwhile, even before its liberation, a political battle was shaping up for Trieste.

Tito's radio Belgrade yesterday said Yugoslav forces were bringing about "realization of the age-long aspirations of our brothers in Istria, Trieste and Gorica.

Signs of the German rout in northern Italy multiplied. The 1st Armored Division alone captured 12,000 troops in 24 hours. In a battle southeast of Padua, an enemy column was intercepted and over 1,000 prisoners taken.

From Rome Marshal Rodolfo Graziani's chief of staff broadcast an order to the Ligurian army in the north to surrender because of the "absolute uselessness of further fighting and the general conditions of Germany."

Graziani himself, war minister of Mussolini's ill-fated new fascist republic, was an Allied prisoner.

Complex Problems

Experts Have Begun Study Relaxation War Controls

By CHESTER BLOOM
Edmonton Bulletin Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA, Ont., May 1.—Experts of the Canadian government finance and trade and commerce department are already struggling with problems involved in relaxation of controls over distribution, foreign exchange, exports, imports and prices with the imminent victory over Germany.

Worst headaches are the tight lumber, farm machinery, household goods, motor truck and paper markets.

Another is how to restore to civilian channels the pre-war billion-dollars-a-year trade with the United States.

Ever since the Hyde Park agreement and U.S. entry into the war, Canadian-American trade has been strictly on a war bases. The two countries exchanged with each other, tariff free, all war materials, steel, explosives, machine tools, lumber, machinery, and so on.

This trade, exceeding even pre-war levels, flowed in somewhat different channels.

FURTHER BAR

A further bar to civilian trade was the artificial 10 per cent differential placed on exchange of Canadian for United States funds.

Since manufacturers in both the United States and Canada are preparing for reconversion to civilian goods on a 15 per cent basis, immediately following German surrender, quickly increasing to 20-25 and 30 per cent of post-war output, the problem of sets, how to supply British and European markets with a portion and relax controls in the domestic markets, without releasing the inflation genie from the control bottle.

The demand for lumber in Canada is tremendous; virtually all sales for civilian purposes except in most urgent cases are denied in eastern Canada. But the need in Britain for Canadian lumber is even more pressing. Britain looks to Canada for this lumber for her bombed-out civilian population. Sweden, one big pre-war source of British lumber supply, is also destined to be ready to resume shipments at once. But even with her accumulated lumber stocks, Sweden can supply only a small part of the British needs. Russian, Polish and Finnish lumber supplies will remain out of for a long period.

To continue lumber shipments to Britain means continuance of controls in Canada over prices and distribution of lumber. Will the Canadian people accept them?

APPLIES OTHER ARTICLES

The same question with some different angles applies to numerous other articles—farm machinery, trucks, household goods, and electrical wares, textiles and clothing. The liberated countries are desperately in need of such supplies; they are offering prices in many cases high above the Canadian level. But how will the Canadian people accept continued controls, when a part of their production is being exported? Or under controls is the only way such exports can be made.

Still another problem arises in connection with relaxation of foreign exchange control over Canadian versus United States funds. As the huge tariff-free war trade between the two countries nearly balanced this would seem to indicate that the exchange differential should be removed at once. But another factor enters.

During the war, South American countries greatly increased their exports to Canada, so that we have now an adverse balance of trade with them. Such commodities as coffee, hides, tanning materials, and numerous other items from South America are being imported in increasing quantities. South America is in the dollar exchange area—we have to have American dollars to pay the Latin-American countries. If the exchange differential is removed at once, we would be short of funds to make these payments.

PAPER SUPPLIES

Paper is another tight commodity in Canada. But South Africa, Australia, New Zealand and India are desperate for paper. How much can we export to them while keeping on tight controls in Canada?

These are just a few of the headaches with which the departments now are wrestling. Speaking generally, they are trying to deal separately with each particular problem as it arises in acute form. No general plan has been adopted except that it can be said there will be no sudden lifting of all price and distribution controls. They were put on item by item as the need arose during the war, and they will be taken off much the same way—but as soon as humanly possible, say the departmental heads.

North Councillor, C. W. Lipsey Is Dead

Well-known by the travelling public throughout the Peace River block, Charles William Lipsey, 10616 107 street, died in an Edmonton hospital Monday. He was 73 years old. Mr. Lipsey operated the Royal hotel in the town of Peace River for 19 years, and was a former mayor and councillor of the town.

He was born in Renfrew, Ont., in 1872, and came west to Edmonton in 1902, where he went into partnership in a contracting business with a cousin. He moved north in 1918, and in 1941 went to Eastern Canada for his health. He returned to Edmonton in 1942.

Surviving are his wife; one son, Cpl. Harold M. Lipsey, RCAF, of Victoria, B.C.; a brother, Edwin, in Renfrew, and two sisters, Mrs. Colin A. Ross of Ottawa, and Mrs. Selby Bge of Douglas, Ont.

Mr. Lipsey was a member of at plenary sessions, leaving State Secretary Stettinius as permanent chairman of the organization and steering committees.

EXECUTIVE GROUP PICKED

The organization committee—made up of delegation leaders—has appointed an executive committee —including the Big Four and Canada—to direct the actual work of the conference as a steering committee.

The organization committee has approved the seating of White Russia, the Ukraine and Argentina, but the admission of the latter was over strong objections from Russia, supported by Greece, Yugoslavia and Czechoslovakia.

This controversy called for the first division in plenary session, which yesterday approved the admission by a 31-4 vote with 11 countries abstaining. Canada voted with the majority as did Britain and New Zealand. Australia, South Africa and India abstained.

Today the plenary session will hear the last of the formal speeches, starting with that by Prime Minister Smuts of South Africa.

WILL SET UP COMMISSIONS

The executive committee is scheduled to continue work on the delayed task of setting up four main committees — called "commissions" in the jargon of international conferences.

These will cover the four main headings of the Dumbarton Oaks agreement — general procedure, general assembly, security council and world court.

Once these commissions and their committees are set up, the conference can get down to business. Most of that business will be conducted behind closed doors.

Give Approval Housing Project Planned at Exhibition Grounds

City council, at a special meeting Monday afternoon, authorized the city commissioners to enter into a lease with the National Housing Administration covering four buildings at the exhibition grounds which are being converted by the crown organization into housing accommodation. Forty suites will be provided in this conversion project.

The proposed lease will be for a period of five years, and will carry an option for extension for a further period of three years, the annual rental to be $1.

Under the terms of the lease the city will receive no taxes from the converted property.

City Commissioner R. J. Gibb reported to council that the four buildings to be converted include the hospital structure, and four huts south of the grandstand. All the converted buildings will be cut off from the exhibition grounds by a seven-foot fence.

60 HOMES PLANNED

He reported also that the Dominion department of Veterans' Affairs would proceed with the construction of 60 homes for war veterans on the Martin estate, immediately south of the city limits on the 109 street trail.

These homes will have full basements, and probably will be served with sewer and water from the city. He said that negotiations for extension of water services were now being carried on, and added it was likely that sewer extension would be asked for. Any such extensions would be carried out at the expense of the Dominion government, Mr. Gibb stated.

Mr. Gibb reported also that the Department of Veterans' Affairs planned to build summer homes on the Grierson estate in the north east section of the city. This project, he said, would not be proceeded with until next year.

Ald. Sidney Parsons, commenting on the fact that full basements would be placed under the homes built outside the city for ex-servicemen, said it seemed ludicrous that the government should build homes outside the city limits that conformed to city's by-laws, and within the city insisted on erecting homes for members of the armed forces which fell short of the city's building regulations.

DISMISS APPEAL

An appeal by Mrs. R. B. Hamilton, 10727 113 street against the 1945 land and improvement assessment on her property was dismissed by council, and the decision of the city commissioners sitting as a court of tax revision was upheld.

Ald. R. Winslow Hamilton, deputy mayor, told council members that the decision of revision was of the opinion that Mrs. Hamilton's remedy lay in civil action rather than in downward revision of her tax assessment.

She complained that the basement in her home had been damaged through seepage from a skating rink set-up on the lot adjoining her home. Water damage had resulted to furniture and furnishings, she told council.

Following the dismissal of this appeal council adopted the 1945 assessment roll, and gave third reading to the bylaw formally adopting the 49½ mill rate struck for 1945.

HEALTH REGULATIONS

Third reading was given also to a by-law amending the health by-law. These amendments provide for prohibition and regulation of wild and domestic animals within the city limits.

Council concurred in the commissioners' recommendation that a permit be issued for the construction of a garage on the property formerly occupied by Fane's garage. This garage was recently destroyed by fire.

tion of all the particular zones was achieved. The movement of troops and the surrender of enemy troops may both take an appreciable period of time."

"Good news will not be delayed," he said in answer to Lady Astor's question whether, if peace news came while the House was adjourned, he would hold it until Parliament again met or would release it through the BBC.

The prime minister indicated a peace announcement not only might precede final surrenders, but that such surrenders might not be worth an additional announcement.

"It is by no means certain at this time that complete surrender of all the enemy's forces will make the subject of a future announcement," he said.

SILENT ON "OFFER"

The fact that he made no mention of Himmler's first surrender offer to Britain and the United States, or of a second one which the Gestapo chief is widely believed to have submitted, suggested the government is planning now only to advise the House on the outcome of negotiations, and not upon the course of negotiations.

The House was jammed with one of the largest attendances of the war, in hopes Mr. Churchill might clarify many rumors concerning German peace bids.

Labor member Aneurin Bevan pointed out that the prospect of large numbers of British troops fighting in the far east would exercise a sober restraint on the British public.

"I hope that the restraint for which Mr. Bevan is renowned will always be imitated in all parts of the country," Mr. Churchill replied. "But soberness and restraint do not necessarily prevent joyous expression of the human heart."

Outside on the streets were newspapers with big banner lines. The Evening News declared: "Himmler offers—surrender papers are all ready for signing."

BIG NEWS AWAITED

A Hamburg radio broadcast meanwhile predicted that London and Washington were "preparing for tremendous news about the development of the war today, May Day," but still clung to hopes the Germans might split the Big Three.

"The tremendous news London and Washington are preparing will have the character of an interim balance sheet," the enemy broadcast said. "As long as there is no unity among Germany's enemies there can be no final news."

REPORT NAZI ANSWER DELIVERED BY COUNT

STOCKHOLM, May 1.—(AP)—The newspaper Dagens Nyheter said today Count Folke Bernadotte, Swedish emissary, reported to have been acting as a go-between for peace between the Allies and Germany, had forwarded the German answer to capitulation demands to an Allied legation in Stockholm yesterday.

The newspaper said the German reply had been released through the Swedish foreign office and that Bernadotte was expected to return to Stockholm today.

Dagens Nyheter commented that the situation in Denmark and Norway was "very favorable for peaceful liquidation" of German occupation troops and hinted that a settlement might be possible in Scandinavia in days.

"Even if the situation remains uncertain, German occupation in Denmark and Norway is expected to end very soon," the newspaper said.

The report stated that Bernadotte had long conferences Monday with the Germans in the Hotel quota. This compared with $5,130,450 in the seventh loan. The number of subscribers in this loan at the end of the seventh day was 9,935 compared with 11,000 on the comparative day of the Seventh loan.

Sales in Northern Alberta for the first seven days totalled $6,095,600 for 41.8 per cent of the $14,500,000 quota, compared with $4,886,100 in the Seventh loan when 38.9 per cent of the quota for that loan had been reached.

Total sales in Alberta from individual purchases, and payroll savings, but exclusive of special names amounted to $19,211,500 for 52.9 per cent of the $36,300 quota set for this loan. In the Seventh loan the total sales from these sources amounted to $16,130,150 for 50.9 per cent of the quota for that loan when the books were closed on the seventh day of business.

The total sales including special names amount to $22,328,400, or 47.6 per cent of the $47,300,000 quota assigned to this province.

STAYS IN LEAD

Victory Loan authorities at the North West Air Command announced Tuesday that it continues to lead all other air commands in Canada in the race for the Deputy Minister's Shield. Fort Nelson station of the command continues to lead all other units and has won its second pennant, emblematic of attaining 200 per cent of its quota.

Military district No. 13, having passed its original objective of $760,000 on Friday night last is carrying $100,000 per cent over the original objective. This subscription amount had been achieved with only 663 per cent personnel participation, and officials are confident they will achieve the million dollar mark and 100 per cent participation.

In the special names section The City of Edmonton Sinking Fund Trustees purchased $100,000 of bonds, and the Northern Hardware Ltd., made a purchase of $50,000 worth.

The leading salesmen on the seventh loan in the Edmonton canvass were Ald. Harold Wright, J. F. Naismith and George Keltie.

NOVEL METHOD

A novel method to gain 100 per cent personnel participation in the loan was put over by Ald. Wright, manager of the Edmonton Tire and Tire Repair (Aero) Co., Sam Panayi, proprietor of the Hotel Corona and Jack Spriggs, who allocated amongst all purchasing bonds. The first prize was won by Bert Coffey who was presented with a $25 victory bond. Other prizes donated were war savings certificates and war saving stamps.

Edmonton's Chinese are behind the loan 100 per cent. Not only are they subscribing liberally to the loan, but are educating their children in the advantages to be derived from investing in the nation's war effort.

Three of the youngest Chinese investors were reported to the Victory loan headquarters Monday. They were the children of George Wong Quan, a cafe owner, who invested $300. Their names are Robert Wong Mow, aged three, and Joan Wong Mow, one year and three months.

The oldest investor during this campaign is reported to be Mrs. Georgina Smith, 10050 81 avenue. She will be 92 on May 24 next, and has been a regular subscriber to Victory loan campaigns.

Ilsley May Report On Peace Feelers

OTTAWA, May 1.—(CP)—It was learned reliably today that Hon. J. L. Ilsley, acting prime minister, may give a statement on this affair soon a report on the status of Nazi peace feelers. It was understood that Ilsley would not make this statement in close touch with reports of the activities of Count Folke Bernadotte, the Swedish emissary who is supposed to have carried peace offers from Gestapo Chief Heinrich Himmler to Allied representatives.

GOVERNMENT TO ISSUE V-E DAY STATEMENT

OTTAWA, May 1.—(CP)—Hon. J. L. Ilsley, as acting Prime Minister, said in a statement late yesterday that an official announcement will be made on behalf of the Canadian government when hostilities in Europe have ended.

Mr. Ilsley said it was intended to follow the announcement with two proclamations—the first declaring the following Sunday to be a day of solemn thanksgiving and remembrance, and the second declaring the day following the announcement to be a public holiday.

He added: "It is, of course, understood that these latter arrangements are tentative and may have to be altered in the light of circumstances."

WASHINGTON, May 1.—(AP)—The White House said yesterday that President Truman will report on any end of European hostilities "whenever anything can be released officially and with proper authority."

Press Secretary Jonalran Daniels made this comment at a news conference this morning. He said he had nothing to report along that line at present. "There will be all sorts of reports out of all sorts of places," Mr. Daniels said.

Argentine Is Given Voice At World Security Parley

By C. R. BLACKBURN

SAN FRANCISCO, May 1.—(CP)—The United Nations Security Conference yesterday voted 31-4 to invite immediate Argentine representation at the conference after a spirited debate in which Foreign Commissar Molotov of Russia said he questioned whether the South American country was free of Fascism.

FIRE CHIEF J. MACGREGOR

Clean-Up Drive Draws Support Of Fire Chief

With Tuesday set aside as "fire-prevention day" in the annual clean-up campaign being staged this week by the Edmonton Junior Chamber of Commerce, fire department officials added their weight to the appeal for co-operation on the part of citizens.

Fire Chief James Macgregor declared that the fire-prevention angle of the clean-up campaign during this year was more important than ever. With the war-necessary shortage of materials with which to repair and rebuild blaze-wrecked property, it was essential that citizens observe rigidly common-sense rules that play a large part in keeping fire losses at a minimum.

Edmontonians were asked to clear their homes and gardens of all inflammable rubbish. Chimneys, stoves and furnace-pipes should be cleaned out, with the co-operation seek down the chimney being taken to make sure that sparrows or other birds hadn't selected the site as a nest place for the season. Rags and paper stuffed into odd crevices constituted a particularly dangerous hazard.

Electric wiring, worn bare over the passage of time, should be replaced immediately. Some protection between the kitchen stove and floor was another important preventative measure.

Edmonton's fire department has an abundance of information and advice regarding fire prevention, and the enquiries of city residents regarding general adbuation from the hose 'n' ladder boys.

Suggest Bertrand Seeks Other Riding

MONTREAL, May 1.—(CP)—A statement issued yesterday by Hon. P. J. A. Cardin, leader of the newly-formed National Front, said that "an attempt is being made to prepare the terrain in Richelieu-Verchères county for Fisheries Minister Ernest Bertrand who is assured of being defeated in his riding of Montreal-Laurier and is looking around for another constituency."

The statement was made in reply to an editorial in Le Canada, Montreal morning Liberal newspaper, which said that Mr. Cardin's radio address Friday announcing creation of the National Front "has put all of Sorel in a flutter." And that "the consternation is general."

(Sorel, 50 miles northeast of Montreal, is in Richelieu-Verchères constituency which Mr. Cardin has represented in the House of Commons since 1917.)

Before the Magistrate

Edward Gebistorf of Edmonton, pleading guilty to failure to use caution when starting up his motor vehicle, was ordered by Magistrate L. R. Jackson Tuesday morning to pay a fine of $5 or serve five days.

Edward McDonald, charged with intoxication, was unable to appear. The case was set over.

HOW TO RELIEVE PILE TORTURE QUICKLY AND EASILY

If you are troubled with itching pain or rectal soreness, do not delay. Treatment and run the risk of letting this condition become chronic. Any itching or soreness or painful passage of stool is nature's warning and proper treatment should be secured at once.

For this purpose get a package of Hem-Roid from Merrick Drug Stores or any druggist and use as directed. This formula which is used internally in small, each is taken tablet, will quickly relieve the itching and soreness and aid in healing the sore tender spots. Hem-Roid is pleasant to use, is highly recommended and it seems the height of folly for any one to risk a painful and chronic pile condition when such a fine remedy may be had at such a small cost.

If you try Hem-Roid and are not entirely pleased with the results your druggist will gladly return your money.

C. B. HILL

C. B. Hill Marks 30th Year as Child Helper

Congratulations on the 30th anniversary of his appointment to the post of child-placing officer for the Alberta government were being received Wednesday by Charles B. Hill, known for his work throughout the province and in other sections of Canada.

Mr. Hill was born in Cornwall, Eng., and came to Canada in 1910, where he lived at St. John, N.B., Cobalt, Ont., and Edmonton, where he was employed first by the CNR, working up to the position of chief clerk of the master mechanic. In 1915 he entered the provincial government as child welfare inspector and in 1923 was advanced to his present post.

PLACES CHILDREN

As child placement officer in the province's Child Welfare Bureau, it is his duty to place homeless children to find the type of children wanted by persons seeking adoption. A difficult job at times, his length of service is a tribute to the care with which he has always exercised his duties.

Many of the youngsters who passed through his hands as tiny, homeless waifs have made a mark in the world. A number of them are at present wearing Canadian uniforms in battlefronts all over the world. "The kids generally turn out very well and in some cases better than the family's own children," Mr. Hill said.

Now's the Time

This is clean-up week in Edmonton. The job is more formidable than it would otherwise be because April weather has not encouraged anybody to get outdoors and ply the rake, the repair kit and the paint brush.

Fortunately the clean-up campaign and a better order of weather seem to have coincided. There should therefore be busy evenings ahead of the house-holder, clearing away the winter accumulation of rubbish, fixing the fences, doing the odd paint job—and getting things in order to put the Victory garden under way.

Sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, the beautification idea is being stressed as the objective of the week's efforts. That is singularly appropriate just now. The home surroundings and the city should look their best as the boys—and the girls—come dribbling back in growing numbers during the summer months.

V

Beating the Records

Victory Loan sales netted 32 per cent of the required $1,350,000,000 during the first week of the campaign. This was more than three millions over the total for the first week in the 5th Victory Loan drive.

Increased sales in Alberta fell not far short of the three million mark, and thus came fairly close to accounting for the national gain in the weekly record. Lethbridge, for the fourth time in succession, won the distinction of being the first sizable city in Canada to reach its quota.

Edmonton trailed through most of the week, but went beyond the national average when Saturday's sales boosted the total to 37 per cent. This is not the first time Edmonton has lagged in the early stages; but it has always reached the goal by the time the books were closed. That in fact has become rather a habit, and there is every reason to suppose the pace will quicken as the days pass.

V

Wait For Official Word

It will take a lot more explaining to make clearer than mud just how it came about that Senator Truman, a flock of conference reporters and the radio systems flooded the world late Saturday afternoon with a report that Germany had capitulated and the war in Europe was over.

That it was a premature announcement of an event which may happen any day or hour did not make the rumor excusable, or harmless. Millions of people who have relatives or friends in the battle zone got a terrible shock when President Truman hours later had to shatter their hopes by saying there was no foundation whatever for the report.

The moral of course is plain. A report of that kind, or of any major military significance, should be treated as gossip unless it comes from official sources in Washington, London or Moscow, or from General Eisenhower. The latter is the man most likely to give out the news when the event does happen.

V

Mercy Posters

One point Herr Himmler overlooked in his plan to split the Allies—the possibility that Moscow might not care particularly whether Germany surrendered or didn't. He runs a chance that the Red Army, remembering Stalingrad and Moscow and trenches filled with corpses of Russian civilians, would prefer that the Nazis continued to liquidate themselves by keeping up the fight in Berlin and eastern Germany.

It is Germany—not Russia nor the Allies—which has to face the alternative to unconditional surrender. That fact seems to have escaped the notice of Heinrich. And of all the powers engaged, Russia has the strongest reason to want retribution to run its deadly course. Germany is the country with the strongest of all possible motives to want the punishment stopped.

The Russians have placarded Berlin with posters denying that they aim to either exterminate or enslave the German people. There was never any reason, outside the guilty Nazi conscience, to suppose they had either purpose in mind. This reassuring gesture from Moscow is generous, remembering the terrible score Russia has against the Hitlerites. If Moscow even wanted the pummelling to go on, that could be understood.

V

Victory in Italy

Mussolini long ago ceased to be of any military or political importance. His ignominious death at the hands of Italian patriots was appropriate. The Allies are thus freed of the possibly embarrassing question of what to do with him. The firing squad which put an end to him and his fugitive gangsters went far to redeem Italy from the crimes for which he made it responsible, and to clear the way for the restoration of parliamentary government in what is left of the Italian empire.

What is important is that the Axis power in Italy is in complete collapse. Allied troops are holding the approaches at either end of the Brenner Pass and the remnant of the Nazi-Fascist forces are in a trap from which they have small chance to escape.

Canadian troops share largely in the credit for this happy outcome. Though they left two months ago for another scene of action, they had fought through the campaign from Sicily all the way up the peninsula, and the end was in sight when they were pulled out of the lines facing Bologna and Venice.

There has been hard fighting since, but there had been twenty months of gruelling advance before, through mountain terrain, in mud and snow, against an enemy numerically stronger and far better equipped than the forces Kesselring left to hold the Gothic line. A score of victories in the Italian campaign will be emblazoned on the colors of the 1st and 5th Canadian divisions and the accompanying armored brigade.

V

Marshal Graziani was more fortunate than his master. He is still alive, because he adroitly side-stepped the Italian avengers and got into Allied custody. If he and is the same it will at least be postponed, and the Marshal will have an opportunity to present his case before a judicial tribunal.

V

Moscow took no stock in the story that Hitler would die like a hero at the head of the defenders in Berlin, and relayed a report that Goering had gathered up twenty millions in cash and flown the Reich for some point not named. Despite doubts, Hitler's egomania may have inspired him to make a try for martyrdom, but that Hermann has taken wing is likely enough—if he thought he saw a place of refuge somewhere.

V

Red Cross officials report that a quarter of a million Allied war prisoners are massed in German ports on the Baltic awaiting ships to carry them to Sweden and freedom. It is good to know that the Red Cross men are there—as of course they would be. This is an assurance that all possible is being done to supply the needs of the prisoners and to get the transport for which they are looking with eagerness. People in Edmonton and elsewhere who recently subscribed to the Red Cross fund will see in this situation some of the purposes for which they contributed their money.

Wagnerian Motif Dominates Last Days of the Nazis

Manage to Interject the Operatic Touch Even in Death

By HAROLD L. WEIR

The German people are in a desperate plight.

Their cities lie in ruins. Their roads are ripped up and pocked with great shell craters. Their railways are destroyed. Their bridges have been blown to bits. The entire transportation system of Germany is out of existence.

Confusion and terror and disorganization have the country and its people by the throat. Agricultural production is, for all these reasons, at an extreme minimum and it is likely, in view of the situation, the scratch German soil requires much preparation and fertilization, that the country will grow little if any food this year.

Harold L. Weir

It is very probable that millions of German civilians starve to death next winter. And every day disorganization continues, signs the death warrants for more thousands.

And yet, under these tragic conditions, the German leaders are still playing absurd operatic rules. The Wagnerian motif dominates the last days of the Nazis.

That, I think, is the most shocking factor in the situation—that these ridiculous Nazi supermen are still posturing and strutting and playing the fool over the corpse of Germany.

Goering, so it is said, sent his five daughters to Valhalla with five pistol shots and then turned the weapon on himself. That, at least, is the Nazi story, although I should think it extremely likely that he is hiding his gross obesity in Sweden where he has long owned a large estate.

Hitler's fate is uncertain. Quite obviously when Himmler offered on Saturday to surrender to Britain and the United States and declared that Hitler would be dead in 24 hours, he was hinting that if the Allies would accept his terms he would see that Hitler was murdered.

Later came the story that Hitler had died in an underground hideout in Berlin. I think the point is too much like a Gothic saga that the maniacal leader should render his end in such a dramatic moment in German history.

Even Himmler's first peace overture was fantastic. For with the death rattle of his country in his ears, this coolest scoundrel of the list made a childish effort to embroil the British and Americans with the Russians.

The whole thing is unreal and theatrical. It is unpardonably stupid. It is grotesque.

And this, perhaps, is the crowning horror of it all—that the funeral meals of Germany's obsequies should consist of large greasy slices of Wagnerian ham.

It is this unreality that gives the most significant clue to the meaning of Nazism.

For the thing has been play-acting from the beginning. The whole house of cards was conceived in nightmare and delivered in delirium.

It was a dream of disordered minds and the ectoplasm of insanity has been resolved back into disorder.

No other end was possible. For creation is always an act of love, never an act of hate. And Nazism, which is created in hate, like the fictitious empire of Hitler, is insubstantial, illusive and has no life in it.

This is the end of the Nazis' dream and it is flickering out in theatrical absurdities even as it began in theatrical absurdities.

One might consider the case of Benito Mussolini.

It is hard to remember that this man whose dishonored corpse is today the target for the contemptuous spittle of the Milanese was once the most powerful figure in Europe.

He wore the shoes of the Caesars and, like the Caesars, he defied and terrified the world. His power was tremendous. His prestige was immense. And his voice got the attention of every capital on earth.

But now, by a change, like a side of condemned meat, in a square in Milan.

I wonder if those who are left of the totalitarian demi-gods realize the significance of all this?

I wonder if they know that the end of the amateur dictator is always the same?

I wonder if they have been given to understand, at the pitiful close of this last pitiful act, that power is not the fruit of planting or intelligence or strength or luck or winning battles—but simply the gift of God?

As these vain and foolish men who plunged the world into blood make their vain and foolish exits, there comes to me with very great force another scene from history.

It is the courtyard of a castle in Catalonia and the year is 1530. The young Charles Habsburg, in his twentieth year King of Spain and Flanders, sits astride his horse surrounded by courtiers about to ride abroad.

Suddenly a jaded and disheveled horseman appears, rides to the king's side and hands him a message. Charles seizes it and reads it hastily. It is a letter from the prince electors telling him that, with the consent of the Pope, he has been named Holy Roman Emperor, the greatest office within the giving of man.

For a moment his face is radiant and suffused with a terrible pride. His eyes blaze and rake the sky in triumph.

Then his entourage crowns around him with words of congratulation and flattery.

They slowly, he slips from the saddle and falls on his knees in the dust;

"Call me not good; for only God is good", he cries. "Call me not great; for none is great but God".

More Go To Church In East

From the Canadian Youth Commission

A poll of youth opinion made for the Canadian Youth Commission reveals that, apart from Quebec province, regular weekly attendance of church by young Canadians between 15-24 declines steadily from east to west—from 63 percent, in the Maritimes, 49 percent, in Ontario, to 34 percent, in the Prairie Provinces and British Columbia.

The poll also shows that larger numbers of young people in such cities as Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg and Vancouver say they do not go to church than do young people in smaller communities — indicating that religion is a greater factor in the lives of young people in small towns and rural areas.

In Quebec 88 percent of young people, and 80 percent, of all young Catholics in Canada, say they go to church every Sunday. Only 38 percent of young Protestants make this claim.

A questionnaire conducted for the Youth Commission in a large school in Montreal under the Protestant Board of School Commissioners gave the following information:

Do you attend church or synagogue regularly? 57 percent. said no.

Do you attend Sunday School or other religious school? 74 percent. said no.

Do you belong to a club associated with a church or synagogue? 72 percent. said no.

Do you believe religion has more to offer the world than any other social philosophy? 50-50.

In contrast, here are answers to a questionnaire from a group of farm youth in Eastern Ontario:

A person can lead a good life and—

(1) Not go to church? False, 17, Uncertain, 4. Partly true, 10. True, 27.

(2) Not worship God? False, 45. Uncertain, 3. Partly true, 3. True, 2.

(3) Not have any religious connection? False, 43. Uncertain, 3. Partly true, 4. True, 2.

Even Basements Become Modern

No Longer Gloomy Domain Of Coal Dust, Ashes and Cobwebs

By MARY ALICE QUAYNE

Do you have that time-honored conception of a basement as a gloomy domain of dust, ashes and cobwebs? Well, if you have you are definitely as out of date as hobble skirts, because that type of basement went out when the innovation of the gas furnace and the oil burner gave the cue for cleaning up the cellar.

Not all Canadians use gas or oil for heating, but even coal burners can have a coal pile and a glorified basement, too.

Soon to be exhibited at the New York Architectural League are eighteen winning designs from the "flexible heating" contest recently sponsored by the Bituminous Coal Institute, in which prizes were awarded for the most practical and attractive architectural designs for basements and chimneys capable of using any type of fuel.

"Flexible heating," the institute explained, calls for facilities which can be quickly and easily shifted from coal to gas, to protect the homeowner permanently against shortages or price increases in any one fuel.

"Flexible heating," the institute explained, calls for facilities which can be quickly and easily changed from coal, oil or gas, to protect the homeowner permanently against shortages or price increases in any one fuel.

Some of the ideas suggested in the winning designs—emphasizing the fact that even flexible facilities don't have to sprawl over the whole basement—might be carried out by a modest job of remodelling, or in building anew merely by adding new furnishings and equipment.

The first-prize winner called for a sunken terrace outside the south wall of the basement. An unbroken expanse of windows extended from the bottom of the terrace to the ceiling of the basement to bring a flood of sunlight into the room as well as a decorative view of the terrace planting.

One end of the room was equipped as a workshop and marked off by a folding partition from the rest of the space designed as a recreation area. The opposite wall was to be surfaced with white plaster to provide a permanent movie screen. And a kitchenette combination of sink and grill was indicated in another corner where it would be equally handy for filing party snacks or preparing food for the nearby freezer.

In this, as in all the other winning plans, the heating facilities were neatly isolated from the living area.

Another device for letting light into the basement was presented in a prize winning design. A huge picture window started at ground level, slanting inward and upward to the ceiling of the living room on the floor above.

A bank of steps below the window was designed to hold a collection of indoor plants which would look like a conservatory from the balcony of the living room above.

An ingenious arrangement of swing-out cupboards and folding counters in the opposite corner of the basement room made a multi-use unit that could be converted into a dining area, hobby corner, quiet corner, or bar.

The flexible heating features of all these winning designs called for a chimney large enough for a coal-burning furnace, even though the same size wouldn't be needed for oil or gas, and adequate fuel storage space that could be used for either a coalbin or an oil tank.

Getting rid of the ashes is another job that goes with coal and this was provided for in several of the designs by various plans for built-in ash lifts.

Although the contest focused on ideas for basements and heating facilities, each design submitted had to specify plans for a complete six-room house suitable for a family of moderate means.

Many of us who are anxiously looking forward to postwar building of our dream house will have to get on our thinking caps if our basements are to be convenient and useful as this contest has pointed out.

Russia the Conference Enigma

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

SAN FRANCISCO: The overshadowing enigma of the United Nations conference here is Russia. The practical problem of the conference is not to create good-will between Russia and the western nations. For that problem has opened in an excellent spirit. The Russians have understood what Russia wants, how its mind is working, how to interpret a vital appears to be its contradictory policies. This is proving very difficult. Often after midnight here and the British simply cannot make out what the Russians really mean, and it is almost as hard for Americans because were incapable of translation. The interpreters can translate the words but they have not yet translated the thoughts behind them.

This central difficulty of the conference, on which its outcome will very largely turn, arises under two main headings—the future of Poland and the structure of the new league of nations.

The Polish problem, strictly speaking, is not before the conference at all, and Mr. Molotov has been careful to point that out. Whether it will be considered or not by never attend the conference will be settled by negotiations between the Polish provisional and American governments. Nevertheless, the outcome of the conference will be deeply influenced by the Polish problem, for it has become the chief public symbol and test of the unity of the Big Three.

The public attitude towards the government of Poland baffles the English-speaking world. No one in this conference seems to know what Russia seeks in Poland. Obviously Russia can take there whatever it pleases and nobody is going to stop it; but instead of arguing on some issue of territory or power which the western world might consider important, Russia argues about the precise composition of the Polish government, about the meaning of the Yalta agreement, and all this prevents Poland, from coming to the conference.

The only explanation of Russian policy here, and in many other fields, is that it does not always relate to the facts of the immediate but is a policy of indirection designed to influence some other issue altogether. For example, Russia today is seeking a post-war loan of six billion dollars from the United States and has received no assurance of the money, reportedly to its great disappointment. The Russian pressure on another country may well be designed as a bargaining factor in securing the desired loan. Some students of Russia here do not believe it is particularly interested in forcing the present Lublin government upon the conference, but keeps pressing for its acceptance to prevent the creating of a government unsatisfactory to it, and also to influence other political events not yet identified.

All this is very confusing but has caused no breach whatever in the warm friendship of the Big Three. At all costs the English-speaking world is striving to achieve a meeting of minds with Russia. But the British, and especially the American, representatives face a political difficulty here which the Russians may not appreciate. Britain and the United States being democracies, their delegates at San Francisco are instantly sensitive to public opinion, and it is quite obvious that American opinion may turn sour on Russia and perhaps on the conference if the Russian attitude does not clarify soon.

Indications of this danger already are appearing in the isolationist press, which is delighted to use Poland or anything else to make trouble for collective security. Even friends of internationalism are beginning to warn Russia that it is drawing heavily on the bank of American good-will. There lies, without doubt, the largest area of potential danger to the conference and to the future of the world.

The second practical problem in dealing with Russia surrounds the revision of the Dumbarton Oaks charter. Here again Russian policy is utterly baffling. For weeks the government-controlled press declared that on no account must the charter be changed, and it was generally supposed that Russia would resist changes here. But when Mr. Molotov was asked at his press conference if Russia would accept changes he replied that no one here would be so use holding a conference at all if such amendments were not to be made.

This indicates that Mr. Molotov's remarkable speech pledging his country unreservedly to the success of the conference will greatly simplify the whole work of the conference. But at the very moment when everything seemed set it would be glad to see the charter amended it was disputing with vigor over the mere procedure of the conference, the duties of a chairman, and held up the business for a whole day on a point which no one else considered worthy of ten minutes discussion.

The question is how far Russia really intends to go in amending the present charter.

The 150 amendments sponsored by the small nations will not create any difficulty for the conference, but there is room for a clear-cut issue between the Allies in the American amendments. The United States delegation has agreed on certain proposals which have not been officially revealed but obviously are designed to satisfy the Republican delegates, whose support in the Senate is essential to the adoption of any league charter. The present charter probably must be changed if it is to secure the necessary two-thirds Senate vote.

The United States amendments are believed to fall under three heads. It wants international justice to be founded on the underlying principle of the league, and this is acceptable to everyone. It wishes to write into the present some provisions asserting the principles of the Atlantic Charter and the Four Freedoms. Whether these are acceptable to Russia and its domestic ideology is not clear. The third amendment, and the most important, would provide some procedure for revision of the covenant years hence in the light of experience. At present it can be altered only with the approval of all the Big Five, and this unilateral veto over changes is objectionable at least to the American delegation, though it was accepted by the Roosevelt government at Dumbarton Oaks and by the British government also.

There may be room for compromise here on the precise amending mechanism, but obviously this question will prove one of the most vital of the conference and will doubtless be a real issue of practical politics when the results of the conference go to the United States Senate, where the Republican party can prevent the adoption of the charter.

Apart from the business of amending the charter in the future the principle of unilateral veto by any of the Big Five over the decisions of the league will not be altered by the conference. The United States is believed to have found a formula in the first place, and the Big Three are standing firm on it.

Pools Investigation Continues

By J. H. GRAY

OTTAWA: The Manitoba Elevator Commission, the first witness of the other giant western Pools, had its day in court before the Mc-Dougall Royal Commission on Thursday. Though Manitoba put its first co-operative legislation on the books in 1887, the first in Canada, the Manitoba Elevator co-operative has had the toughest going of the three. Today it operates 246 elevators, compared with 436 in Alberta and 1,127 in Saskatchewan.

The Manitoba co-operative differs substantially in law with its Alberta and Saskatchewan associates. Manitoba Pool Elevators is not a limited company and it does not own elevators. All the Pool elevators in this province are owned by the local, farmer-controlled association it supply an operating agency, working under a long-term contract with the local elevators. In the other provinces the title to all the elevators is vested in the central body. Thus each member of the Saskatchewan Pool owns a small piece of all the 1,127 elevators. In Manitoba, the Pool member has no interest in any elevator, save the one in his local.

The other wheat Pools survived the 1931-32 smash, but in Manitoba the Pool went broke and through bankruptcy. The provincial government was the principal creditor, and the elevators, built by loans from the Pool, were the main asset. The province lost better than $1,000,000 on the bankruptcy and sold the elevators to the local associations under a series of agreements and legislative enactments.

Mr. W. J. Parker, who read the Manitoba brief, is a practical Manitoba farmer who is proud indeed of the record of his organization, particularly of the leadership it has provided in constructive fields. Since 1929 alone, a period in which they have saved farmers $500,000 in freight charges, with grain clearing. They have embarked on a soil improvement programme. They have set up liberties to help farmers become better farmers. They have brought out into the semi-business and they have, he said, been instrumental in substantially reducing handling and storage charges to the farmers.

The accumulating surpluses and bumper crops have built a splendid income of all elevator operators. Their schedule of charges was based always on the assumption that during the year, there would be periods when the elevators would be empty, or only partly filled. The handling charges were based upon normal crops in their areas. First came bumper crops, which filled and overflowed every country elevator in the West.

Up went earnings from handling. As the elevators stayed full, up went the income from storage. Then, as the backed-up grain from the farms flowed to market, handling income zoomed, as the terminals at the lakehead boosted storage income again.

The effect of volume on earnings was terrific not only for the Pools but the private line elevators. But while the Pools kept their earnings, the private line companies lost theirs in excess profit taxes. The line elevator companies, who find the Pools tough competition at any time, are fearful of what is going to happen to them at the hands of Pools flush with money.

The mutual dislike of these competitors, an admitted fact of life on the prairies, broke into the record for the first time Thursday when Mr. Parker's brief. He took several side-swipes at the private companies. It was the western farmer, he said, who was actually paying the income and excess profits tax these companies were paying the government.

The private companies will put their case on record next week. Three briefs, weighing in all about two pounds, will be presented.

MANCHESTER GUARDIAN

As the bus came to a stop three American soldiers and three girls, with gaily colored scarfs on their heads, came noisily down the stairs and on the footpath joined together arm in arm. Inside the bus sat two elderly very respectably dressed ladies. They showed great interest in the scene on the footpath. One murmured something to her friend, who was heard to reply, "I can never understand how they get to know them."

SIDE GLANCES—"I was kind of hoping you'd stay home tonight, Bill, and help me with my geography—you've flown over all the places I'm studying about!"

U.G.G. Suggests Some Revision Co-Op. Tax Plan

OTTAWA, May 1—(CP)—Revisions in tax legislation applicable to co-operatives were proposed yesterday by the United Grain Growers Ltd., in a submission to the Royal commission on co-operatives.

R. S. Law of Winnipeg, president of the company, presented a brief and under examination by various counsel representing other co-operatives and line elevators discussed its details.

The company recommended that patronage dividends and dividends of up to five per cent paid by co-operatives organized on a capital stock basis be allowed as deductible expenses for income tax purposes. As "a temporary expedient" it was suggested that generally similar provisions be made applicable to companies in direct competition with co-operatives.

SMALL TAX WOULD RESULT

Mr. Law said he recognized that such a policy would result in companies affected paying small taxes and that companies which had to meet a payment on capital before allowing for patronage dividends would be in an unfavorable competitive position. The method of operation of United Grain Growers was practically the same as that of line elevators but it differed in its capital structure.

The company reported it had been subject to income and excess profits taxes of $1,093,012 since 1929 and was in an unfair position in relation to other co-operatives which had paid practically no taxes.

Should it be determined that patronage dividends were subject to tax, the company would be liable to a further $1,543,496 for that period. With this in view, patronage dividends had been withheld since 1942 and as a result the business had suffered.

"Our contention is that there should be no difference for taxation purposes between co-operatives organized on a share capital basis or on a loan basis, the brief said.

"We submit that a co-operative is entitled to have reasonable dividends on share capital regarded as an expense in the same way as one organized on a loan capital basis is entitled to have interest in its loan capital so regarded."

RESTRICTION TOO LOW

The restriction of non-member business to 20 per cent of the total to allow co-operatives to qualify for income tax exemption was considered too low.

The company had, in 40 years' operation, met privately-owned competition on even terms.

"It has never sought and does not now seek any preferential treatment for itself," the brief said. "It has faith in the co-operative way of business. It believes that co-operation is a vital and living force which under proper guidance can continue to exist and flourish without any special advantage over competitors.

Post-War Years

Canadian Wheat and Bacon To Find Big British Market

By CHESTER BLOOM
Edmonton Bulletin Ottawa Bureau

OTTAWA, May 1.—While Britain necessarily turned during the war from production of livestock to production of grain, her pedigreed herds were preserved and their quality is higher than ever. This was one hopeful message brought to Canada by the touring party of five representatives of the British National Farmers' Union, seeking to form a worldwide international farmers' organization. The international conference of farmers will be called in London next October.

DOING HER BIT.—Miss Katie Wasylycia, who has given ten blood donations to the Red Cross blood clinic.

The quintet include James Turner, president of the National Farmers' Union; William Young president of the Scottish Farmers' Union; George Ervine, deputy president of the Ulster Farmers' Union; Giles Tuker, member of the NFU headquarter fruit committee and Geoffrey S. Browne, economist for the NFU.

Messrs. Turner and Browne gave an interview for "background" purposes to members of the press gallery here. He said they had met most encouraging responses from leading farmer organization representatives in New Zealand, Australia and the United States.

In discussing the British situation, it was pointed out that Britain had changed over during the war from a nation which imported 70 per cent of her foodstuffs to one which produced 75 to 80 per cent of her food. But like all percentages, these are misleading; they are based on British consumption under almost unendurably severe rationing.

IMPORT VOLUMES

The truth lies in volume of imports. The fact is that the British people pulled in their belts so that the total amount of food they consumed annually—domestic and imported—during the war was less than they imported prior to the war.

The point is that Britain expects to adjust her food production after the war to greater production of livestock—sheep, hogs and poultry—and decrease production of wheat and cereals but still maintain British food production to about two-thirds of her needs. At the same time British farmers hope to raise the standard of living in Britain so that one-third of food still imported will come close in volume to the pre-war imports. In other words, Canadian wheat and bacon will still find big markets in Britain, if these hopes materialize.

But such hopes are based on British re-establishment of her manufacturing and export position. To raise and maintain such a standard of living, there must be re-employment to create purchasing power. At the same time, it has to be recognized that the wage levels in Britain cannot be raised to a point where they put her at an exporting disadvantage with her competitors.

In other words, Britain must operate as a part of a general world economy and it is for this reason the National Farmers' Union is anxious to establish international relations with all farmers and to work for a general raise in world standards of living and wages.

That is a simplified statement of the British farmers' problem but working with the government, they are determined to make progress at it.

PRODUCTION INCREASES

It was pointed out that during the war Britain had increased her wheat production by 22 per cent, other cereals by 78 per cent, potatoes by 102 per cent. Simultaneously importation of feed was cut off and hog production cut by 57 per cent, poultry by 27 per cent, and sheep cut by 25 per cent. The task now is to partially at least reverse these percentages to achieve a balance between livestock and grains while maintaining domestic overall food production at about 66 per cent of British requirements.

Dairy cattle production was increased by 0.7 per cent during the war to provide milk for the children. At the same time a special and successful effort was made to preserve the pedigreed herds. Special allocations of feed were made for this purpose so that the sources which have helped Canada and other nations with pedigreed cattle were saved, Britain will thus be able to make some contribution to re-establishing the destroyed herds of Europe, as well as to restore the balance between grains and meats in Britain.

Mr. Turner paid a high tribute to the work of the British women's land army during the war. He said there were some 80,000 women and girls enlisted in this work during the war years, coming from all walks of life.

"I do not know what we could have done without them", said Mr. Turner, "we simply could not have survived".

The Bulletin's SPORT SHOW by Hal Dean
SPORTS EDITOR

NELSON, B.C., is holding the first international mid-summer bonspiel commencing July 2 and lasting for five days. And Ed Kelter, secretary-treasurer of the Nelson Civic Centre Commission, has written giving several convincing reasons why the event should be included in the itinerary of curlers who plan to take their annual holiday about that time.

Ed points out that curlers will not only enjoy the bonspiel in Nelson, but at the same time will have the privileges of a sporty nine-hole, grass-greened golf course, together with motoring, hiking, boating, swimming and fishing in the Kootenay Lake. Sounds inviting, doesn't it?

The Nelson rink is part of the city owned Civic Centre, built in 1935 at a cost of $285,000. The centre embraces an artificial ice arena capable of seating 2,000 and with an ice surface 180 by 80 feet, which, if necessary, can provide an additional six sheets for curling. In addition there is a gymnasium 143 by 65 feet, an auditorium seating close to 1,000, public library and numerous meeting rooms.

NELSON CURLERS HOSTS

THIS bonspiel will be conducted by the Civic Centre Commission in conjunction with the Nelson Curling Club, the latter being official host and will provide the necessary rocks and brooms.

The curling rink itself is a five-sheet affair and Kelter adds, "It will be a simple matter to curl in July even if the temperature runs close to the 100 mark." There will be five competitions and it is planned to limit the entry to 50 rinks.

Invitations are being sent out to many well known skips, including former Macdonald Briar winners in the west and entries are hoped for from Winnipeg, Regina, Saskatoon, Edmonton, Calgary, Lethbridge and Vancouver as well as from interior B.C.

DODGERS HOLD WORKOUT

DODGERS held their first practice of the season at Renfrew Park last night, over 20 players being put through a light batting and fielding drill directed by Coach "Chuck" Henderson.

Ralph Morgan, Walter Johnson, Ab Superstein, and Doug Stevenson of last year's regulars attended. Phil Brockie, champion hitter of the league in '44, Tommy Brant, George Green and Joe Shandro of the last Dodger squad are expected out later.

Phil Bourasa, former first baseman, was back and Patterson, also a member of the RCMP and a first sacker too, was out. Bill Gadsby and Spence were two of the newcomers. Doug Stewart is expected home from overseas soon and will be with his old team again. And, by the way, Scotty Lee—the last team he pitched for at Renfrew was the Royals—turned up.

Yanks worked out earlier in the evening. The diamond is having an overhauling and was not used. The main bleacher section at Renfrew is being rebuilt.

Entries Received From EAC, Canadians, South Side and Arrows

Junior Baseball League to Open May 24

Four Games Are Planned Each Week

JUNIOR baseball will return to the city after an absence of two years on May 24 when the opening game of the Edmonton Junior Baseball League will be played, it was decided last night at a meeting held at the Barn.

Entries were received from four teams—Canadian Athletic Club, Edmonton Athletic Club, South Side Athletic Association and Arrows—at last night's meeting—deadline for entries—but it is expected the league will operate with five teams.

Dodgers, who assured their entry at early meetings, were not represented last night and the deadline for entries was extended until today to allow the team to file. President Phil Horn was instructed by the meeting to contact the Dodgers today to ascertain if they intended to sponsor a team in the circuit.

It was decided to play four games each week, two on Wednesday's and one on Friday nights and Sunday afternoons. The league officers also appointed the City Recreation Commission since the last meeting on the matter of a playing field and reported that a diamond would likely be built at Clarke Stadium for the exclusive use of the juniors. This matter comes up at the City Recreation Commission meeting on Thursday night at the Civic Block.

In the event that a park is built at the Stadium, games would be played there Wednesday, Friday and Sundays and a fourth would be played on Wednesday nights at Renfrew Park.

A proposed constitution was discussed and agreed upon at the meeting. One of the most important items was that concerning the age limit. It was decided that any player-20 years of age and under at midnight, May 31, would be eligible. This constitution will be printed and presented before the next meeting for approval.

The need for an umpiring staff was stressed and it was decided to try for suitable men, and they are to be paid. Any person wishing to umpire at the junior games are asked to contact George Ward, secretary of the Edmonton Junior Baseball League.

Representatives of teams at last night's meeting were: T. (Derry) Derrington, Canadian Athletic Club; John Ducey, Edmonton Athletic Club; "Buck" Eaton, Arrows; Tom Green, South Side Athletic Association. Ken Henry, president of the league when it last operated, also attended. President Phil Horn was in the chair and secretary-treasurer George Ward took the minutes.

Practices Are Set For Renfrew Park

Following is this week's practice schedule for Renfrew Park as announced by Secretary Bill Harris of the City Senior Baseball League:

Tonight—Signals.
Wednesday—Arrows.
Thursday—Dodgers.
Friday—Yanks.

Walker Cooper Joins Army Today

ST. LOUIS, May 1.—(AP)—Walker Cooper, team captain of the world champion St. Louis Cardinals, will be inducted into the army today at Jefferson Barracks.

Cooper's induction, originally slated for yesterday, was postponed one day because of a delay in transfer of his papers from his Independence, Mo., draft board.

South Side Club To Hold Workouts

The South Side Athletic Association's entry in the Edmonton Junior Baseball League will hold its initial workouts of the season on Wednesday and Friday nights of this week at the South Side Athletic grounds. Starting time each night will be 6.30 o'clock.

All players on the South Side will be welcomed at these workouts and will all be given a good chance to show their ability.

Golf Balls in U.S. Worth 9 Times Weight in Silver

NEW YORK, May 1.—(AP)—Golf balls have risen in value so much on the black market in the United States this spring that today one of pre-war vintage sells for as much as nine times its weight in solver.

A golf ball that sold for $1 before 1942 recently coat $10 when two members of a Long Island club attempted to settle their 19th hole argument on the links and visited a black market wholesaler before starting out.

By rule, a golf ball weighs 1.62 ounces, giving this particular pellet a value of $6.17 an ounce. Silver is priced at 71 cents an ounce.

The same make of ball has sold on the same market for $60 a dozen although the usual asking price is $50.

Despite the pleas of manufacturers, retailers and club pros, all of whom are asking legitimate prices for their wares, that an old ball be turned in for re-processing when a new one is purchased, it is doubtful if supplies will last out the season.

Canadian Workout

Canadian Athletic Club of the Edmonton Junior Baseball League will hold a practice tonight at Clarke Stadium commencing at 7 o'clock.

Junior Combines Practice Tonight

Manager T. (Derry) Derrington's Combines of the City Junior Fastball League will practice with the Centrals of the senior loop tonight at the Boyle Street diamond starting at 7 o'clock.

All boys wishing to play with the Combines art asked to be on hand, Coach Ray Barson announced that players will have their first real tryout at their respective positions. Any new players will be welcomed.

Jamieson Expects Didrikson to Win

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, May 1.—(AP)—Betty Jameson will meet her fellow-Texan, Babe Didrickson Zaharias, in golf again soon but to hear her talk you get the impression Betty doesn't expect any different result from that of the challenge match they played for charity.

The two met in a 72-hole affair, part in California and part in Texas, and the Babe beat Miss Jameson, twice national champion, 10 and 8.

Betty described Mrs. Zaharias as "slightly terrific," declaring many women golfers have the same co-ordination—a few of them perhaps better—but none she ever saw had the strength or the driving power of the Babe.

Al Benton Back In Stride

Dischargees Star in Majors

NEW YORK, May 1.—(AP)—Honorably discharged veterans held key positions in the 1945 baseball pennant race yesterday although the draft boards continue to take about eight men for every former athlete returned.

Detroit's Al Benton is one of the most conspicuous of the ex-servicemen able to step back into big league stride.

The 32-year-old Oklahoma right-hander shut out St. Louis Browns in his first start after receiving his navy discharge and then whipped Cleveland.

Catcher Mickey Livingston came out of the army in November and took control of Chicago Cubs receiving in spring training, working all but one of the games to date.

Harry (Peanuts) Lowrey, diminutive Cubs centerfielder, showed promise with a .250 batting average. He came out of the service in mid-winter.

Bill Southworth is banking heavily on another former soldier, Albert (Red) Schoendienst, heralded as a sensation before his minor league career was halted at Rochester last spring by the army.

Latest Red Sox surprise is Dave (Bo) Ferriss, discharged from the army air force in February, and who broke in Sunday with a 2-0 whitewash of Philadelphia.

Documentary productions released in the National Film Board's "Word in Action" series contain film footage shot in all parts of the world.

MONDAY NIGHT MIXED

The league ended their season with playoffs for the first six places, winners of the first half meeting winners of the second half. Results are as follows.
Hit and Miss took first place by defeating Happy Gang 3 to 1. This left the Happy Gang in second place. Arrows cats took two games out of three from the Spark Plugs, leaving the Bearcats in third place and the Spark Plugs in fourth. Fifth and sixth places went to National Home Furnishers and the Eddies respectively.
High single game for the evening of 331 was rolled by Mrs. Sangster of the Eddies and high team game of 1218 was rolled by the Hit and Miss.
The league closes off the season with a swell show and the crowd enjoyed it.

After dropping the first fall to Jossul in 8.30, Van Velzen nailed Jossul twice in the finale of the rassle-royal, one fall taking only 45 seconds and the other seven minutes. Cecil Goldstick refereed.

Rassle Royal a Success

Katan Scuttles Christy Twice And Mat Fans Fully Approve

JOHN KATAN, the husky ex-Lethbridge coal miner, had quite an extensive repertoire of counter measures to be used as an antidote for rough and tough ring tactics and he took two out of three falls from Ted Christy with the unanimous approval of a fair house of lusty-throated fans, in the main bout of Monday night's wrestling card at the Empire theatre.

Bud Higgins pinned Eddie Stone two straight in the semi-windup, the second fall coming after 6 mins., 20 secs. of the fourth round. The rassle royal which began with five horizontal gladiators in the ring in addition to Referee Cecil (Tiger) Goldstick, who managed to cut in sixth man several times, got the show away to a flying start. The entire card was good and probably the strongest of the season.

Jack Taylor refereed the semi-windup and main bout and he and Bud Higgins threatened to stage bargain attractions two or three times during the progress and again at the end of the Stone-Higgins match.

It was announced during the evening that Edmonton St. John Ambulance Association unit No. 61 had been awarded the Calgary Brewing and Malting Co., Ltd., shield which is up for annual competition amongst units in Alberta. Calgary and Turner Valley also competed this year.

Members of the winning Edmonton unit are Captain Ambulance Officer A. W. Allbright, Sgt. A. W. Strahan, Cpl. W. Wingfield and Pte. Sid Easterford.

CHRISTY AS USUAL

Christy began his session with Katan with the customary choking and eye gouging and "the Killer" replied in kind. He gave the Christy head a ride on the ropes and followed with a knee on Ted's neck. Labor he tossed in a couple of punishing armlocks and squeezed his Hollywood guest like a herring with a very effective neck scissors.

The Californian won the first fall in 22 minutes with a step-over leg strangle, using the ropes for additional leverage—which the crowd roared about.

The second fall—a quick one—went to Katan with a body press in 1:40 after a successful head spin.

Katan gave Christy a thorough overhauling when they came out for the final fall, flinging him hither and yon, especially yon, and finally flattening him with a body press in 3 mins., 25 secs.

HIGGINS BEATS STONE

First round of the Stone-Higgins match ended with Stone having a decided edge and when the gong went he had Higgins securely tied up with a head scissors. Higgins had a body scissors on Stone at the end of the second.

Higgins won the first fall in just under eight minutes of the third round and the second in the next round with a step-over strangle. Higgins had considerably more fire last night than in his previous appearances here and was a much improved wrestler.

GERKE FIRST OUT

Alex. Gerke was the first out of the rassle-royal embroglio—if his shoulders weren't pinned to the mat they should have been, with the other four, Leo Magirl, Steve Jossul, Emil Van Velzen and Maurice DeBlieck all on top of the Wetaskiwin entry.

Maurice DeBlieck was next out, Magirl, Van Velzen and Jossul all evidently ignoring the fact that DeBlieck had on a nice new pair of shoes too.

Van Velzen and Jossul ganged up on Magirl and Leo was through.

DeBlieck and Magirl then returned and Magirl was declared the winner after 9 minutes, via the disqualification route.

DeBlieck versus Referee Goldstick was the next bout—another impromptu affair. "Tiger's" shirt was almost a total loss and other portions of his wardrobe will have to be replenished today, but it was

The intermediate leaders corp, YMCA, is promoting a basketball referee's school to commence today. This school will run for five weeks, on Tuesdays from 4.30 to 6 p.m. and it is open to any boy interested in basketball refereeing in the city of Edmonton, and is free of charge. For further particulars attend the opening meeting today.

Clark Ready, who has had wide experience in directing referee schools in eastern Canada and the west, will be in charge. The YMCA welcomes all people interested in basketball to attend this school.

Leaf Juniors to Practice Tomorrow

Maple Leaf Athletic Club junior fastball team will hold a workout at Exhibition grounds on Wednesday evening at 7.30 o'clock.

Leafs are entered in the City Junior Fastball League and an invitation is extended to all players desiring a tryout for the team.

What they achieved...we must hold

IN THE YEARS following the Napoleonic wars, high taxes, low wages and unemployment made life almost unbearable for thousands of people in the British Isles. Canada was their land of promise. So by hundreds they came to Quebec, took the river steamer to Montreal, walked nine miles to Lachine where they began the cruel journey up the St. Lawrence in bateaux or Durham boats, lugging their possessions along the shore past the rapids. Finally there was the long journey inland with their supplies on their backs or on ox carts. And in the middle of the forest they made homes for themselves.

Just one ideal they sought, and found, in this new land. It was a country where thrift and hard work brought their reward, where each man could profit according to the effort he put forth.

Victory Bonds are the means by which each and every one of us can protect this precious heritage handed down to us by those sturdy pioneers. Each bond helps to crush those nations who seek to restrict our freedom. Each bond will assist the men in our armed services to build a happy future in this Canada of ours.

NEW YORK, May 1.—(BUP)—Dixie Walker, batting king of the major leagues, took a lusty cut at the speeding white ball. His 37-ounce club met the pellet with a crisp crack that could be heard all over Ebbets Field. As the ball went zooming over the right-field fence for a three-run homer, more than 26,000 wild-eyed Brooklyn fans exploded a joyous roar that rocked the stands.

There was double-barreled cause for joy in this eighth-inning blow. It put the Dodgers ahead of the New York Giants, 4-3, turning threatened defeat into victory; and it proved to the worried worshippers of Walker that their champ wasn't "through".

Long, lean Dixie—most popular Brooklyn outfielder since the days of Zach Wheat—entered Sunday's game with the dwarfish batting average of .152. This .152 in nine games this season was one helluva figure for the socking southerner who had hammered out .357 to lead both leagues last year. Fans, writers and even Dixie, himself, were beginning to fear that old age had caught up with the 34-year-old survivor of so many playing injuries.

EXTRA BATTING PRACTICE

THIS slamless man from Alabam experimented with his stance and changed his bat temporarily; then he changed back to the same old stance and the same old Chick Hafey model club. In desperation, he asked manager Leo Durocher to permit him five minutes extra batting practice before Sunday's game.

Dixie made this request reluctantly, he explained later, because it is not polite to ask for extra batting practice at this stage of the season when the squads are large and every man wants his full quota of "licks" in the batting cage. Durocher readily granted his request.

Apparently it was practice that the elongated farmuper needed. He was robbed of a hit by Pitcher Andy Hansen's beautiful one-bounce recovery in the second inning; he got a walk in the fourth; he smashed a single to centre in the sixth; and he "moidered" Rookie Hansen with his game-winning homer in the eighth. That blow—with Buddy Rosen and Augie Galan already on base—caused Hansen to be yanked from the mount immediately and tagged the promising rookie with his first defeat of the season.

TIMING WAS RIGHT

GENIAL, soft-spoken Dixie said in the dressing room after the game: "I feel mighty good now—mighty relieved, because I was meeting the ball just right today. My timing was right. I was beginning to get real worried before today because my timing was off—or something. I didn't know exactly what was wrong.

"I figured it was lack of practice; but I wasn't sure. You see, I had reported late for spring training because of a slight salary misunderstanding. And when the season opened, it seemed that the pitchers were way ahead of me—or else I was way behind them. It was the worst beginning of a season I had made since I started playing baseball. It was a terrible letdown after my good season last year. It was a terrible let-down when I knew that fans expected so much of me.

"I'm certainly glad Leo let me take that extra batting practice and I hope he lets me get in some more."

TORONTO, May 1.—(CP)—Now that the hockey season is over—definitely over—hockey men across the Dominion who begin to cast thoughts to the coming season annually at this time of year, are faced with a new problem. That is the fact that the 1945-46 hockey season may be barren of service teams.

The lack of service teams and loops in some parts of the country may make little difference to the puck moguls, but in other sections of the Dominion it means complete reorganization needed for post-war planning. Especially in parts of the Dominion's west, service hockey has been the major winter drawing card.

Calgary is a typical example of this and Bob (Calgary Herald) Mamini suggests that planning for next season, hockey executives have three choices—juniors, seniors, or pros. Probably the simplest way would be to take up where things left off at the advent of service hockey. In Calgary, for instance, senior hockey held sway and it might be easiest to revive the senior league.

The possibility of a pro loop taking hold seems remote, yet one never can make a safe prediction in hockey. Pros took over the middle west after the last war until 1926 with a good deal of success.

It is a problem that is bound to harry the minds of the money-men until the season starts action.

Odds-and-ending:

George Ochawa Times-Gazette) Campbell is confident that Johnny McCormack, the St. Michaels' star, will never turn pro. . . . Senator Happy Chandler, new baseball commissioner, is no stranger to Canada he played in the old western Canada baseball league just after the First Great War.

International League

SYRACUSE, N.Y., May 1.— (AP)—Francisco Davila, Nicaraguan southpaw making his first start in the International league for Syracuse Chiefs, pitched a four-hit shutout yesterday as the Chiefs ended their first home stand with their third straight win over Rochester 2-0. Davila walked two and struck out five, while only two Wings reached second base.

The Chiefs got all their runs off starter Bill Trotter in the fourth inning, the last two runs being unearned. Wally Cazen doubled, Chico Rodriguez beat out a bunt, Joe Beeler singled Cazen home and after Hank Cagian was purposely passed Joe King booted Art Simmons' grounded to let two more runs score. The home club got only five hits off three Rochester pitchers.

Servicemen May Not Take Hand in Vote

OTTAWA, May 1.—(CP)—Under King's Regulations and Orders, the only servicemen who may take part in any manner in the forthcoming federal and Ontario general elections are service candidates and officers appointed to take service votes. The regulations — on the books for many years—mean servicemen, other than candidates, may not address meetings even if they don civilian clothes. Thus, the only uniforms allowed at meetings would be those of the candidate on the platform or servicemen in the audience.

Compared With Drake Meet

Better Times at Penn Relays For Second Straight Year

NEW YORK, May 1.—(AP)—For the second straight year the Penn relays at Philadelphia turned in better times than their counter-part at Des Moines, the Drake relays. The two meets officially opened the outdoor collegiate track season.

A comparison of the winning times and distances in the 17 common events showed today that the Penn marks were better in 13, including all eight of the common relay races. Of the other four events, Drake was best in three while one was a tie. A year ago Penn was tops in 12 events, Drake in three with two ties.

The three events won by Drake performers were all in the field division, the shotput, pole vault and high jump. The tie was in the 100-yard dash with both Barney Ewell of Camp Kilmer, N.J., and Charles Beaudry of Marquette timed in 9.9.

Perhaps the most improved performance was turned in by army in winning the classic mile relay at Penn. A year ago the West Point cadets won in 3:21.1. This time they did it in 3:18.7, nearly three seconds faster.

—V—

The University of Michigan team that won four relays at Franklin Field bettered the 1944 winning time in the sprint medley and the four-mile, but was slower in annexing the two-mile and the distance medley. Illinois, winner of three relays at the Drake competition, was slower in all their winning events, the half-mile, mile and sprint medley.

Ration of Sugar Slashed in U.S.

WASHINGTON, May 1—(AP)—The United States sugar ration was cut 28 per cent last night and tighter rationing for some foodstuffs were hinted as officials called on the country to share with stricken peoples of liberated Europe.

Judge Samuel I. Rosenman, governmental advisor, reported after a survey of northwest Europe that the United States should supply a "substantial share" of civilian needs there. He said this would probably cut into American rations.

Ex - Roughrider Back in England But Not Same

BOURNEMOUTH, England, May 1—(CP)—Soggy Norton was back again after two years behind German barbed wire and even his teammates on the Dominion championship Ottawa Roughriders football team of a few seasons back wouldn't recognize him.

Not that Soggy is emaciated or anything like that. He is in good health but his features are hidden under a two-month growth of beard and his athletic frame is covered with an odd assortment of German, British and American uniforms, liberally dotted with S.S. death's head buttons.

Flown to Britain, the bomber navigator from Ottawa, who holds the rank of Warrant Officer, said in an interview at an RCAF prisoner-of-war reception centre here that he walked 600 miles from a prison camp in East Pomerania before he and a large group of Canadian airmen were liberated by the 7th Armored division of the British 2nd Army—the "Desert Rats"—at Fallinghostel, Germany. Then Soggy sauntered across the road to an S.S. barracks and picked up "suitable clothing" for the trip back to Britain, and eventually to Canada.

Bracken Predicts Conservative Win Ontario Election

WINNIPEG, May 1.—(CP)—John Bracken, national leader of the Progressive Conservative party, yesterday predicted in an interview here the return of Premier George Drew's Progressive Conservative government with a good working majority in the June 4 Ontario general election.

Out of the 90 seats in the legislature, I expect the Progressive Conservatives to be returned with more than 50," he said. "Neither of the other two parties (CCF and Liberals) will get more than 20 each."

"My guess is that the people of Ontario will not again deny themselves the opportunity of obtaining a stable government. The common view is that there is no prospect of achieving that either through the Liberals or CCF."

The total journey was 3,230 miles, which "F" for Freddie covered in 13 hours despite the fact that her pilot had her throttled back as far as possible all the way in order to make sure that she was in shape for her Victory Loan work on arrival.

The BAY
Canada's FIRST Store

..... 275TH ANNIVERSARY .....

No time to grow old

ON May the second Hudson's Bay Company celebrates its birthday . . . and if you should ask us, "How long have you been in business", we should probably look up our charter and say, "275 years".

Yes, on the second of May we will be 275 years young . . . for we've been so busy keeping a step ahead of the times that we've had no time to grow old!

We've kept young and forward-looking through sharing in the building and development of this progressive Dominion. That is what you will think, too, when you visit the Bay stores in Canada. Modern to the minute in equipment . . . confident in values that are right . . . leaders in displays of quality merchandise . . . and with well-trained personnel to give you courteous, efficient service.

On the eve of our 275th anniversary, we claim no merit for age—but rather pride ourselves on our close association with Canada's past progress . . . and re-affirm our faith in her future.

We confidently turn our eyes to a brighter tomorrow, and pledge our hearts to greater loyalty, our hands to greater service . . . to our customers, our community and our country.

Name Manager Radio Station At University

Appointment of Walter Blake as manager of radio station CKUA was announced Tuesday by Premier Ernest Manning. Formerly assistant manager of CJCA, Mr. Blake has been associated with radio for 11 years. CKUA is owned and operated by the Alberta government.

Born in Ontario he came west when he was four years old.

"It is common knowledge that the board of governors of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation refused the application of the Alberta government for a commercial broadcasting license for Station CKUA on the grounds that Edmonton was adequately supplied with radio broadcasting facilities," Premier Manning stated in his announcement. "If any justification for such a decision existed at the time of our last application, it certainly no longer exists and the government now proposed to renew its application in accordance with the resolution passed at the Legislative Assembly of Alberta during its recent session.

"Meanwhile station CKUA will be financed entirely out of public funds. As quickly as circumstances permit the hours of broadcasting will be increased with the ultimate objective of operating the station for the full period from 7 a.m. until midnight. The listening audience may be assured that no pains will be spared tobring theprograms up to the highest possible standard and to improve the facilities of the station to a point where it will fill a long neglected need in the field of radio broadcasting.

"The government is confident that in its efforts to this end it will have the co-operation and support of the public generally and of the radio audience in particular."

CKUA will continue to broadcast the educational programs from the University of Alberta as well as information of public interest and importance supplied by the provincial government departments of education, agriculture, public health, public welfare and others.

PARTICULAR EFFORT

A particular effort will be made to encourage the development of local talent by offering scholarships and awards in various fields and by setting up an audition board before whom local artists will be able to appear to demonstrate their abilities.

"It is a well known fact that in the past many talented artists from Alberta have been forced to leave their own province and locate in the larger centres of the east or in the United States before they could obtain an opportunity to participate in the programs of the CBC. From the quality and number of Alberta artists who have been accepted on radio programs in other parts of Canada, it is evident that we have, in this province, latent talent, which, if given an opportunity, can and will make an outstanding contribution, particularly in the field of radio," the premier said.

"In undertaking this new program in the sphere of radio the government invites constructive criticism and helpful suggestions from the public generally. In this enterprise we are again breaking trail in a new field in a determined effort to make available to our people more of the advantages which the science of radio has given to mankind. Too often these advantages have been forced to take second place to commercial interests and financial gain through governments permitting such vested interests to monopolize radio facilities to the exclusion of others.

WILL SUCCEED

"In this matter, as in other fields, opposition will be encountered from such interests but if public opinion support the government's efforts as it has in the past we will succeed."

All communications should be addressed to Radio Station CKUA, Edmonton, or to Hon. W. A. Fallow, minister of telephones, who will be in charge of this phase of government activity.

CCF's Youth Group Hears Elmer Roper

The Edmonton CCYM, youth movement of the CCF, held a general meeting at the Masonic Temple Friday night when Elmer E. Roper, CCF provincial leader, was guest speaker. Mr. Roper dealt with the aims of the CCF in the province.

Mrs. Binnie continued her instructions on the Pennsylvania Polka. May Peterson, Edmonton CCYM vice-president, chaired the meeting.

MOSQUITO TEAM—Shown above are a couple of RCAF fliers who have one of the longest team-work records in the annals of the air force overseas. Left is PO. C. N. Matheson, DFC, navigator, son of Mr. and Mrs. Neil Matheson of 123 Garfield Street, Winnipeg, and on the right, PO. Walter G. Kirkwood, DFC, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Kirkwood of 10747 104 street of this city, and an ace pilot. Both were attached to the Canadian Nighthawk Squadron for several months. One memory-making event in their career together was their Christmas Eve and New Year's Eve bombing of Germany. Mr. Kirkwood was born at Vegreville in 1922, and has two brothers, Robert in the RCAF, and Kenneth in the Canadian Army.

Lifebuoy Follies Presented in City

Memories of the old "Dumbells" were awakened for many Edmontonians who witnessed the Lifebuoy Follies in the Masonic Temple Monday night when some of the originals of the last war's famous soldier show were included in the cast of talented artists.

The Lifebuoy Follies show is presented by Lever Brothers in aid of the Red Cross. It was originated in 1941 for the entertainment of the armed forces and is now on its first civilian tour.

The cast included Pat Rafferty, top comedian of the original Dumbells; Jimmy Dixon, eccentric dancer, also of the Dumbells; Jack Ayre, musical maestro, original pianist of the Dumbells, and a comedian of no mean ability; Norman Evans, former CBC baritone; Helen Rosamalin and leading Gilbert and Sullivan exponent; Bonnie Lorene, accordionist; Irene Hughes, precision dancer, and Pauline Mac Farquhar, song and guitar impersonations. Producer was Jack McLaren.

A-R-O-U-N-D THE TOWN

A & B Company and Band of Sea Cadets will parade Tuesday, May 1, at 1930 hours at the drill hall. Thursday parade is cancelled.

Bank clearings through the Edmonton Clearing House for the month of April amounted to $42,-219,611.19 as against $39,464,696.33 for the corresponding month of last year.

Effective at 7 a.m. Wednesday, all bans on highways in the province will be lifted, according to an announcement made Tuesday by the Highway Traffic Board.

A. C. L. Adams, Ottawa, private secretary to Hon. James A. MacKinnon, Member of Parliament for Edmonton West, and minister of trade and commerce, arrived in Edmonton Tuesday. He is registered at the Macdonald hotel.

The Associated Canine Clubs of Edmonton will hold a tag day May 5, to further their project of supplying a station wagon for the use of the military hospitals in Edmonton. A car of this type is needed in order that the seriously wounded veterans may be given recreation away from the hospitals. Taggers are urgently needed, and volunteers are requested to telephone Mrs. Alan R. Avery, 82158, convener, or Mrs. M. D. Gardner, 22377, secretary.

Soldier Seeking To Locate Wife

Spr. Frank Gabriel, Royal Canadian Engineers, who has arrived home on leave is anxious to establish contact with his wife, Mrs. Anna Elizabeth Gabriel.

Sapper Gabriel may be contacted at 10046 102 avenue or by phoning 24817.

Albertans Freed

Five Alberta men are listed among Canadian soldiers just liberated from German prisoner-of-war camps.

They include: Pte. G. G. Wilson, Calgary; Pte. E. L. Thibault, Deadwood; Tpr. C. S. Brawner, Castor; Pte. G. R. Moory, Grimshaw, and Sgt. W. W. Olive, Stettler.

Meeting Asks For Extension Of Bus Service

Request that arrangements be made immediately to obtain transportation facilities for the districts centred by Alberta Avenue, Westend and the Calder shops was made in a resolution passed at a public meeting held Monday night under auspices of the Alberta Avenue Community League.

The meeting was called to discuss the question of transportation south of 118 avenue and 97 street to 127 avenue, and west to Calder; improved sidewalks and roads, and better lighting conditions in the districts. Chairman of the meeting was J. J. Clarke, league president. The city was represented by Ald. James Douglas and Ald Gariepy. About 300 citizens attended.

OTHER MOTIONS

Other resolutions passed unanimously asked for improvement of sidewalks and streets, installation of sewer and water facilities and improvement in lighting conditions "particularly at intersections".

Report was given by a delegation which had presented a petition on behalf of the residents of the districts involved, asking city council for the bus service. It was stated that "little satisfaction" had been obtained. It was pointed out that the petition represented citizens in a "high class residential district", and that roads were in good enough shape for bus usage.

Ald. Douglas suggested that if election, meetings were as well-attended as this meeting, some of the requested improvements could be obtained with little difficulty. He discussed problems entailed in obtaining buses and equipment in war time.

Chamber Members Hear From Official

R. H. Putnam, extension director, general agriculture, outlined new developments in government policy in agricultural extension when he addressed a meeting of the agriculture section of the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce Tuesday afternoon in the Macdonald hotel.

The meeting was directed by James Paul, Namao, chairman of the section.

Garage Reported Entered by Thief

Unlawful entry of the Parliament Service Station, 9905 109 street, was discovered by a patrol officer about 4:35 a.m. Tuesday, according to a city police report. The building had been securely locked three hours earlier, it was stated.

A check of the premises by the manager, H. Craven, revealed that $11 in silver had been taken, as well as a package of cigarettes. Entry was made by smashing in a window.

CCF Party Has Good Chance June 11th Vote

The Co-Operative Commonwealth Federation has as good a chance as any major party of forming a government in Canada after the election on June 11, a.m. Nicholson, MP for MacKenzie, Sask., declared in an address to CCF followers in the IOOF hall Monday night.

The speaker said he believed the CCF party would have more straight party candidates in the field than any party when nominations close on May 14.

He said that Canada must play the same active part in international affairs when peace comes as she has played during the war.

It must be realized that future wars cannot be avoided without the establishment of government on the international level.

MUST REPRESENT ALL

This government must be democratically representative of all peoples great and small and endowed with the paramount powers necessary to maintain peace and provide economic justice and equality of opportunity to all peoples of the world.

Canada, in turn, must also make the fruits of victory real for all her people, Mr. Nicholson said.

The CCF party is determined that Canada must go forward to full employment and rising standards of living and not return to the periods of waste and stagnation of the thirties.

Only such a program as the CCF proposes can make the objective possible, he declared.

CAMPAIGN FUNDS

Mr. Nicholson discussed the raising of funds for the campaign, stating that the CCF has to depend on the generosity of its adherents alone.

There were no large donations from the vested interests such as huge power combines, liquor distilleries, breweries and the like which he claimed have subscribed heavily to the war chests of both the Liberal and Progressive Conservative parties.

The Inquiring Reporter

THE QUESTION

Are you going to miss the street railway's conductorettes' services in street cars?

THE ANSWERS

A. A. HARRIS, salesman: I think most persons will miss the girls from their accustomed places in street cars, although there were times when they were ignored by patrons who insisted on leaving and entering by the front doors.

* * *

MRS. R. SILLS, housewife: The conductorettes were alright; it was the entrance into the back of the cars that I did not like. The doors would have served a better purpose had they been used for leaving the cars only. The conductorettes had an unhappy time during certain hours. It was almost as if she was excess baggage.

* * *

HARRY HARVEY, clerk: I think the conductorettes will be missed, and, I imagine, they will miss some of the excitement they have known in the last year or so. I feel they have carried on an invaluable work as far as they went. Edmonton street cars, however, are not one-man affairs. It is hardly fair to blame the ladies if they fell down at times in the performance of their duties.

Street Car Damage

Further complaints of street car windows being broken were received at city police headquarters Monday, according to Chief Constable Reg. Jennings. Nine windows in four trams were smashed as the vehicles operated along the routes on Sunday evening, the street railway department reported. Investigations are being made.

Army Exhibit

The Army exhibit will be on display in the Edmonton Museum of Arts, fourth floor, Dilke Block, from May 1 to 4, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., and from 7:30 in the evenings. This display is said by those who have seen it to be of exceptional merit and a great credit to young painters in the armed forces. Plan to see it.

Paints Industry Has Supplied Armed Services

"If a man cannot get paint for his house, it is because it went to paint the ship carrying his son or it went for a fighter plane or a bomber, or it went to camouflage a gun. Yet in spite of all the paint for war purposes, domestic uses have been looked after."

So declared V. C. Wansbrough, president and general manager, Canadian Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association, Montreal, to a gathering of approximately 125 members of the Edmonton Paint Club at the Macdonald hotel Monday evening.

The paint industry, he added, has been in the war since the country went to war.

Mr. Wansbrough told his listeners that the paint industry had been on a quota basis of 7 per cent for civilian paint products since the beginning of the war.

FLAX PRODUCTION

In referring to the ingredients of paints, he mentioned the great importance of linseed oil production in this country, and said that Canada in 1945 should have a crop of 70,000,000 bushels of flax to look after the linseed oil and linseed meal supply. Linseed oil, he said, is playing a bigger part in the economy of this country, and he said that farmers in this province should be urged to plant flax this year.

The speaker told of the effect of colors in paint on human emotions and human health; how good painting schemes for plants can reduce the number of accidents and increase the morale and efficiency of workers.

Among those attending the meeting were L. C. de Merrall of Vancouver, L. Hambrook of Montreal, Sid Foreman of Winnipeg, and Allan Nichol, representing the Edmonton Junior Chamber of Commerce.

JUNIOR CHAMBER LAUDED

Speaking of the last-named organization, F. W. Kemp, manager, Canadian American Paint Company in Edmonton, who acted as chairman, said that the junior chamber should be commended for the fine work done in Edmonton concerning "Beautify Edmonton Week."

Jack Williams sang several solos.

DIRECTOR—Mrs. George Hogg, president of the Canadian Health League here, who will direct a social and demonstration of physical training Friday at 8:30 p.m. at the Bissell Memorial, 96 street and 103A avenue, in aid of the Red Cross. Mrs. Armand Phillips is Social convener. Mrs. Jack Fyfe will lead singing, and Mrs. C. Koger will be pianist.

West End Home, Garage Damaged In Rubbish Fire

Said to have spread from a rubbish pile to a garage and then to a private residence, fire Monday afternoon destroyed the garage and caused extensive damage to the home of Robert Robertson, 10328 123 street.

According to city police, the rubbish pile was fired by a resident of 123 street, who was unable to control the blaze when the flames began to spread. Damage to the home of Mr. Robertson was caused by the flames, smoke and water. Two lines of hose were laid and two booster lines used. Insurance was carried on the property.

SHED DESTROYED

A rubbish-filled storage shed and lean-to, owned by an elderly resident of the Salvation Army women's home, was destroyed in a blaze at 6:35 p.m. Monday.

The shed was located at the rear of 9018 103 avenue. Cause of the blaze was undetermined. No 2 hall responded.

Disease Reveals Decrease in City

During the week ended April 30 there were 96 cases of communicable diseases reported to the city health department compared with 103 the week previous, according to a report filed Tuesday with the city commissioners by Dr. G. M. Little, medical officer of health.

The following is a tabulation of the cases reported:

	This Week	Last Week

DOROTHY DIX SAYS—

Happy Wife Proves Ability Through Work

Making Home "Heaven on Earth" Takes Concentration, Patience and Love, But Is Well Worth-while in the End

I have a letter from a girl who says that she wishes to get married so that she will not have to work any more and can take life easy. That is about the quintessence of wishful thinking for, taking it by and large, being a wife is the most strenuous job that any woman can undertake, and why a girl should think that getting married is an invitation to settle herself down on the do-nothing stool, passes comprehension.

There are, of course, a few women, married to rich men, who can spend their days lolling on silken cushions, but the supply of millionaire husbands is so small as to be nearly negligible, when the average girl marries the average man she takes on a life sentence at hard labor, cooking and washing and scrubbing and baby-tending, with about a thousand other chores thrown in for good measure. There is no eight-hour day for her. She has to be on call night and day. No holidays. No Sundays off. She can't even go on a sit-down strike, for she is the power that keeps a family running and without Mom the whole household would go to pot.

That helping a man to make the most of himself and realize his ambitions, and rearing a family of fine children, and making a home that is a little bit of heaven on earth for all who come within its doors is the biggest pay that any woman ever gets for her work, is just one phase of the matter.

ENDLESS TOIL

The point is that this great result is not accomplished except by endless toil. It has meant thousands of hours in which Mom has elevated over the gas range on hot days; miles that she has walked a sick baby when she was so tired herself she was ready to faint with fatigue; nights that she has sat up making Sally a pretty dress to wear to a party, and washing Johnny's shirt so he could have a clean one to put on to go to school next day.

And that is all right. That is as it should be, for it is only fair that we should pay for the good things we get in life, just as we have to pay for the bad ones. Nobody has ever heard Mom complain. I am merely mentioning these things to call the attention of girls to the fact that a wedding ring isn't an Aladdin's lamp that they have only to rub to acquire idleness and luxury, and that when they exchange a business office for a home of their own they are not going to be wafted to the skies on flowery beds of ease, as the old hymn says. They are going to have to get up and hustle.

Nor need anyone pity them for this, for work is just as necessary to a woman's development as it is to a man's, and why we should always have wept over the "poor working girl" and patter the working boy on the back and told him how lucky he was to have a good job, nobody knows. Look about you and see who are the happy women. Aren't they the ones who are so busy they haven't the time to borrow trouble? Who are the contented wives? Aren't they the ones who are filled with self-satisfaction because they know that they are keeping a family comfortable and happy? Isn't it the idle women who fill the smear sheets and get most of the divorces? And doesn't hard work do more than all the beauty shops to keep a woman looking young?

So don't waste any sympathy on the girl who marries for ease and finds that she has gotten a hard job instead of a soft snap. Work is God's bridal gift to her.

THESE WOMEN—"I may as well admit it—this is a blonde I wanted to take a picture of!"

HOLD EVERYTHING—"Do you have a friend for her who is tall, dark and old?"

Your Baby And Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

The changed viewpoint about schedules which is being voiced in articles and books, tends to be confusing to the young mother. She gets the idea that schedules are of no value and are out of date, instead of that too rigid schedules are no longer considered advisable. There is a difference.

A schedule still is important. No orderly-minded mother could get along without one. She wants to know at what time to feed her baby, put him down for a nap or to bed, bathe and air him. If she has no predictable hours for these events, her whole day is chaotic, as is the small baby's life.

Every baby, given half a chance, will develop a schedule even if his mother has never, so to speak, put him on one. He tends to waken with regularity for his meals, to fall asleep at definite intervals after them and so on. Any baby becomes a bundle of habits which are grist or bad according to the way his days and nights have been organized.

It is the inflexible schedule, the schedule which takes no account of the baby living under it but is carried out to the point of absurdity which has come into disrepute. Making the baby eat every four hours, let us say, because it is time to eat and not because he wants to eat; waking a baby at night to force a bottle on him, when obviously he would much prefer to sleep, are bad practices. Those habits are no longer smiled upon as representative of a conscientious mother.

What is more desirable is to put the baby on some schedule which would seem to be best suited to his weight at birth and then be alert to note how well this suits the baby. The mother may find that he regularly wakens a half hour before it is time to feed him and he cries until feeding time. Then if an increase in formula does not keep him satisfied, try feeding him regularly at 3½ hour intervals instead of every four hours. It may be that this baby's hunger mechanism would seem to demand it, at least temporarily.

A baby may sleep until eleven instead of waking at ten as the night schedule states. Let it be that way. A wide-awake baby eats well, a waked-up one does not.

In a word, tailor the schedule to the baby, don't fit him out in a custom-built one and force him to like it.

Our booklet, "The First Six Weeks," indicates the schedules most apt to be suitable to the new baby. It may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for it to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

Personal Health Service

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

SOFT DECAYING TEETH

The teeth of young Americans, after all, are nothing to be proud of, however pretty they may be made to appear in pictures used to sell soap.

But this is not the place to discuss the loss of or the conservation of teeth. If you are interested in this, read "Nutrition and Physical Degeneration" by Weston A. Price, DDS., and "Save Your Teeth" by one guess whom, the first being available in your public library, no doubt, the second being No. 1 Little Lesson in the Ways of Health, which you may have on request if you send twenty-five cents and a stamped envelope bearing your address.

Here I offer in brief my opinion or belief in regard to soft decaying teeth in young persons.

I believe the trouble is due to (a) insufficient use of teeth, gums and jaws in developing—due to the massive refinement and "purification" of modern food—and (b) nutritional deficiency—due to the same processing of most food.

To combat (a) I do NOT recommend chewing gum, tobacco or other foreign substances, but I do recommend chewing plain wheat—carrying a small supply with you and taking a good chew of it when ever you feel the desire. Of course such use of teeth, gums and jaws is but a feeble effort. The ideal use of teeth, gums and jaws in eating foods, together with the better nutritious such foods provide, would account for the beautiful teeth and splendid dental arch, gum and jaw development. Dr. Price found among numerous civilized and savage people in various parts of the world whose diet is not too much refined—and who as yet have not been sold the stupid Yankee notion of brushing the teeth with glorified soap.

To combat (b) I recommend including in the everyday diet more liberal proportions than are generally consumed, of the high calcium foods — particularly milk, cheese, greens, fresh raw vegetables and slightly cooked vegetables, egg yolks, nuts, peanuts—and either taking a daily vitamin D supplement or getting more daily exposure to sunlight, skyshine, daylight—so that the ultra-violet may activate ergosterol in the skin to convert it into vitamin D.

From my own observation of the development of children from birth up to the teens I am convinced that regular use of a vitamin D supplement for the diet throughout infancy and childhood and some extra calcium with it throughout childhood promotes the formation of sound, even, strong teeth free from decay. And I cite the study of Dr. Price again as the solid ground under my suggestion that an adequate daily ration of calcium and vitamin D promotes not just a healthy vigorous state of teeth gums, dental arches, jaws and facial development, but an equally fine general physique.

The child whose diet is principally milk may get sufficient calcium from milk alone, if a daily ration of a few drops of vitamin D in oil is administered. As the baby grows older, as a rule, relatively less milk is taken, and hence is calcium and vitamin D supplement for the ordinary diet becomes necessary for optimal nutrition throughout childhood, particularly if the growing child does not consume milk, cheese and greens as freely as a young person should and does not enjoy sufficient exposure the year around.

Minute Make-Ups

A famous star who is an avid reader uses these exercises for her eyes. Hold a pencil in front of your face very close, level with the eyes. Gradually extend it to arm's length. All the while keep the eyes focused on the pencil. Ten or twelve times is enough at one time. It might make you feel a bit dizzy at first but that only proves that "it's good for you".

Debunker

If you are congratulating yourself for having gone through life thus far without having caught that terrible disease of infantile paralysis you may be surprised to learn that you have probably already had it, for nearly every one has a case of it in his lifetime. Medical experts in New York state that 90 per cent of the world's population has had this disease. Most of us have it in mild forms and never know it, they say; and only about one case out of a thousand develops into the true paralysis stage.

Opening—♥ 5

Nevertheless, this declarer, by magic or otherwise, lost only two tricks.

He ruffed the opening heart lead only to learn that East held four trump. A small club was then led to the dummy and another heart trumped.

Now the ace of clubs was cashed and a club ruffed in dummy. The third heart was trumped and another club ruffed in dummy.

The ace of spades was cashed, followed by the king of spades. The seven of hearts was then led and when East trumped with the ten of diamonds, the declarer simply threw away his three of spades.

Points for Parents

By EDITH THOMAS WALLACE

Mother: "See all the airplane models John has made. We're very much pleased with his attention to detail in making them."

Mother: "You'll never amount to anything if you spend your time making airplanes instead of getting your lessons or practicing your music."

A child is made to feel he is an individual of worth when whatever he does best seems important to his parents.

GLAMOROUS STAR COMING HERE—Claire Trevor, glamorous Hollywood movie star who, with George Murphy, noted dancing comedian, will visit this city on Friday in aid of the Eighth Victory Loan.

Hollywood Movie Stars Planning Full Agenda During Visit Here

Claire Trevor and George Murphy, noted Hollywood movie stars, who will visit here on Friday in support of the Eighth Victory Loan have a full agenda awaiting them.

They will arrive here Friday morning from Calgary.

At 11:55 a.m. they will take part in a special ceremony at the control tower, Jasper avenue and 101 street.

TO VISIT SOLDIERS

Always interested in the welfare of the service men, they have asked to visit the Colonel Mewburn Pavilion of the University Hospital and other wards at that hospital housing returned soldiers. They will commence their visit at 2:15 p.m.

At 3:15 p.m. they are scheduled to arrive at the United States air base where they will visit the soldiers.

At 8 p.m. they will make a second appearance at Jasper and 101 street in connection with special ceremonies in support of the loan.

Then, in order to appear in settings in which they are most familiar to their many admirers, they will visit three moving picture theatres.

At 8:30 p.m. they will appear at the Garneau theatre; at 9 p.m. they will be at the Capitol and at 9:15 at the Rialto.

Both Miss Trevor and Mr. Murphy have won wide followings and their appearance here is expected to give an added incentive to the already steadily-rolling Victory Loan.

How to prepare produce for Baby

Baby's ABC's start now with vitamins instead of blocks. Baby must get his or her full share in order to have a good start . . . and these directions will help you preserve all the nutrients necessary for baby's growth.

PURÉEING VEGETABLES AND FRUITS
Cut vegetables and fruits into uniform pieces, place in saucepan, add just enough water to create steam. Cover tightly, steam until vegetables and fruits are just tender, no longer. Long cooking destroys the nutrients. Cool thoroughly before pureeing. This prevents loss of vitamins through oxidation.

Press through special puree, colander, or sieve with wooden spoon. Avoid straining. Be sure to include what water is left in the cooking pan. There should be very little, but it is vitamin- and mineral-rich.

Store pureed products in covered sterilized glass or crockery jars in cold place. Prepare only enough for one day's supply at a time, as longer storage means loss of vitamins. Heat only enough for one meal at a time, as reheating is also destructive of the food elements. (Note: The same rules of vitamin protection apply to diced vegetables and pureed ones.)

District News In Brief

Sylvan Arranges V-E Day Program

SYLVAN LAKE—In a handbill that was being distributed through town this week, the Sylvan Lake V-E Day program outlined the day as one set aside for services of thanksgiving.

If V-E Day is declared in the forenoon, a church service will be held at 2:30 p.m.; if declared in the afternoon, before 4 p.m., the service will be held at 7:30 p.m. and if declared in the evening, the service will be held the following morning at 11 a.m.

The service will be held at the Cenotaph grounds, and all school-children will be given flags at the parade starting point.

Killam

KILLAM—SPO. Stanley Ruemper is visiting his family here. Mrs. S. James and Mrs. D. James have returned from a visit in Wetaskiwin with Cpl. and Mrs. A. Phillips. A. U. Lebel attended supreme court sittings in Wetaskiwin recently. S-Sgt. Edward Fee and family from Kingston were recent visitors. Pte. E. Erickson is now serving overseas, according to word received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Erickson. Miss H. Large left Edmonton by plane for Watson Lake, YT, where she will be employed. AB. Norman McPherson has resumed duties after visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. McPherson. Miss J. Doig of Trail, B.C., is visiting her aunts, Mrs. J. O. Gair and Mrs. D. Bonar. R. Marquis arrived here after wintering in British Columbia. Cpl. S. Burtenson and Pte. C. Hayward are now serving overseas. Mrs. W. White was honored by the CGDE on her wedding anniversary.

Stettler

STETTLER—Edward C. Fisher, chairman for Alberta of National Salvage, was here to arrange the paper salvage campaign in June. He conferred with W. Schloss, secretary for Stettler.

Students of the Stettler high school will present their annual drama night in Garden's hall, May 11. Three plays will be presented, under direction of Miss Veronica Davies and J. Briggs.

L. L. Cooper, who joined the Canadian Army four years ago, has returned from overseas service with the RCASC. He is visiting his wife and three daughters.

Ladies Auxiliary of St. George's Church held a tea and sale of home-cooking and needlework in the parish hall.

Young People's Society of the United Church held a banquet when S. Hooper was speaker. G. Pearn was toastmaster. Toasts were proposed by Mrs. H. Wilson, B. Hallet and FO. G. Thorburn, and responded to by W. E. Hay, Miss A. McGillivray and Mrs. E. Dean. Miss M. Erickson played a piano solo.

Liked England

WETASKIWIN—Pte. Henry Rhaune has arrived home for a 30-day leave, after five years overseas action. Born and educated in Wetaskiwin, he enlisted in the Edmonton Fusiliers in 1939, later joining the Loyal Edmonton Regiment, going overseas in August, 1940. Pte. Rhaune said, "I didn't have much time for English tea, and you would have to be 45 before you could understand an English joke, but the people over there were tops." A brother, Clarence is with the RCOC at Kingston.

LAMONT—Miss G. Shears, who will be married to Capt. E. Burtch at Winnipeg, May 9, has been honored at social functions staged by Mrs. F. G. Parrill, Mrs. M. Mallet, Mrs. J. E. James, Mrs. L. B. Adams and others.

INJURED OVERSEAS.—Sgt. H. A. Brown, who was dangerously injured overseas, according to word received by his wife, who resides at Killam. At the time of his enlistment in June, 1940, he was residing in Vermilion. He has two children, Barbara and Walter.

Wetaskiwin

WETASKIWIN—Bradley, 14-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Blackidge, swallowed a two-inch screw on Saturday. Dr. Melling and Dr. Golgoy were successful in removing the screw, after locating it by X-ray.

Mr. and Mrs. Russ Taylor were honored guests at a bridge party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Short, prior to their departure for Camrose, where Mr. Taylor will take over the management of the Builders' Hardware Co., at that point.

The Women of the LAAF will hold a tag day Saturday to further their work of supplying comforts for armed forces from Wetaskiwin.

Earle Edwards, who has received his honorable discharge from the Canadian navy, will enter the military hospital at Edmonton for an operation for an injury caused while on active service at the West coast.

Officers and men of the RCSC ship Wetaskiwin journeyed to Edmonton, Sunday to be entertained by the Edmonton sea-cadet corps.

The Victory Loan got away to a good start this week when approximately 55 per cent of its $350,000 quota was reached. C. B. McMurdo is organizer.

STETTLER—Verdict of murder and suicide was returned by a coroners' jury following an inquest into the death of Mrs. Dorothy Havig and her two daughters, fatally bullet-wounded April 23. The jury said Mrs. Havig shot her children, then fatally wounded herself.

Ex-Stettler Rector Given High Honor

STETTLER—Maj. F. N. P. Orme, former rector of St. Mary's Anglican church, was awarded the OBE for chaplain service in Italy. He went overseas with the Regina Rifles in October, 1940 and has served since with the Seaforth Highlanders. Mrs. Orme and their children, Claudie, Michael and Patricia reside here.

Capt. P. G. Costigan, medical officer with the Canadian Parachute Medical Corps, has been mentioned in dispatches. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Costigan, attended the University of Alberta and was a member of rugby and hockey teams.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Lee received a cable from their son Ronald informing them he is now in England after being released from a Nazi POW camp. He was made captive at Dieppe, while serving with the Calgary Regiment (Tank).

Ferintosh Woman Honored at Shower

FERINTOSH—Miss Una Olsen was honored at a shower by relatives and friends at the home of her father, Jens P. Olsen, in Central Valley. She will shortly be married to Robert Dowswell of New Norway.

English Kiddies Leave Hythe For Voyage Overseas

HYTHE—It was a bright September afternoon in 1940 when two youngsters arrived here from Manchester, Eng., to make their home with an uncle, J. H. McCann, postmaster, and Mrs. McCann. On last Thursday's train, they started their long trip back to England.

Dorothy McCann, now 16 years old, and 11-year-old Dennis, said they had enjoyed their stay in Canada. Both have taken an active part in children's activities here, and many farewell parties were held, including those of the CGIT and Boy Scouts.

Dennis, who has become quite a westerner, says he is returning to Canada when he grows up. Since coming here, the kiddies suffered the loss of their father, killed in the blitz.

This will unite two pioneer families whose residence here date from the turn of the century. William Holt made a presentation on behalf of the guests. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Ringwald, and Glen West, who is home after completing operational tours over Germany with the RCAF.

Coronation to Get X-Ray Unit Visit

CORONATION—The Women's Institute which has been endeavoring to obtain the services of the Mobile X-ray unit, has succeeded and the unit will visit here shortly.

The Cadette dance and remonstration held recently raised $135 for uniforms and equipment.

Two old-timers of the Puffer district, Mrs. C. E. Dow, 80-years-old and J. B. McKinney, 85, died last week.

The Canadian Legion branch is sponsoring a carnival here this week. J. Coley recently joined the Canadian Army in Calgary. R. Underwood, VGC, arrived home for a month's leave. Mrs. D. Lazer (nee Edith Lowis) was honored at a shower at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chinnery, Sunday.

Agent Retires

WETASKIWIN—Lt.-Col. A. G. B. Lewis and Mrs. Lewis were guests of honor at a farewell gathering in the IOOF hall, when the Canadian Legion was hosts. Lt.-Col. Lewis has retired from his post as Indian agent at Hobbema, which position he has held for the last nine years. They will reside in B.C. In appreciation of his outstanding work in the Wetaskiwin Legion, a presentation was made.

Bashaw

BASHAW—J. A. Marshall, MP, returned this week from Ottawa. Mr. and Mrs. A. Zimmer have returned from Vernon, B.C. LAC. F. Rossley, veteran of overseas action, has received his discharge from the RCAF. E. Stubbs (says) has returned to duty. Pte. C. Lund, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Lund, has arrived home from overseas. Miss E. Miller, daughter of the Rev. O. H. Miller, former pastor of the Svea Lutheran Church, has returned from four years' missionary work in China. Miss B. Wilson attended the OES festival in Calgary. She won highest marks in piano, and was awarded a silver cup. She was one point behind the winner of the grand aggregate.

Nominated

WETASKIWIN—Mrs. H. R. Evans has been nominated for the position of deputy co-ordinator for the Women's Progressive Conservative Association. In accepting the position, Mrs. Evans urged the women of Canada to remember that "equal service and equal sacrifice be made for Canadian unity." Mrs. Evans has been an assistant to Miss E. Hugill with the Mobile Blood Donor Clinic for the last year.

Flt.-Lt. Ray Schultz Downs Nazi Fliers

BASHAW—Reports in a dispatch from London state that Flt.-Lt. Ray Schultz, DFC, and his English navigator, downed two more Nazi planes Sunday. Flt.-Lt. Schultz is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Schultz of Bashaw. In a recent letter he said he had volunteered for service in the East. He is attached to the RCAF Cougar Squadron.

Vermilion

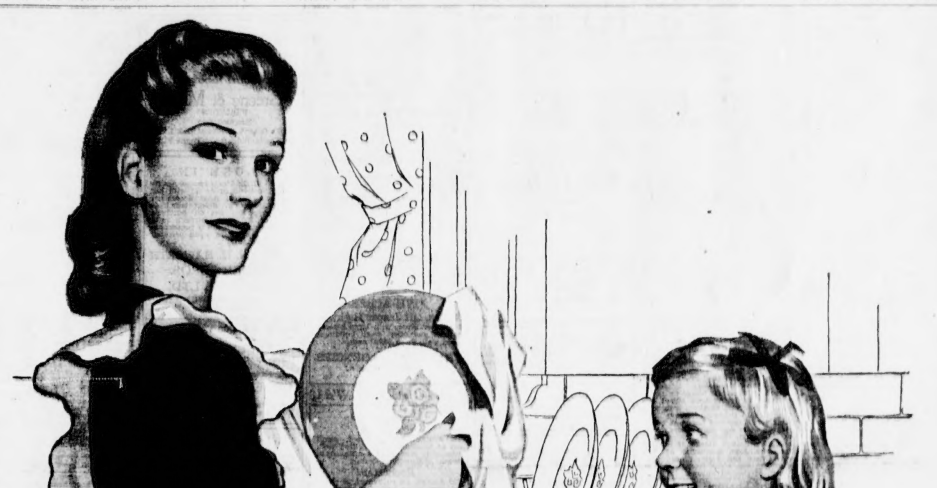
VERMILION—The town passed the 42 per cent mark of its quota in the Eighth Victory Loan Saturday. Owing to muddy roads caused by frequent flurries of snow, progress in rural areas has been slow.

Building operations are getting under way. Excavations for basement for six dwelling houses were noted in two blocks on Saturday.

The electric light and power crew was busy Friday and Saturday getting a new boiler installed in the power house.

ROUND HILL—O. Nelson, grain buyer here for the wheat pool has resigned from the pool's employ after three years' service. He and his wife will move to Metiskow.

YOU'RE IN THE ARMY NOW—"Great equipment these air-borne troops are supplied with nowadays!"



She's in there fighting, too

YES, she's in there . . . all five feet, five inches of her . . . fighting courageously—tenaciously—resourcefully!

No dispatches come from her battle front. What is it but four walls and a roof—with perhaps a picket fence? Yet it is the fountain of a nation's strength—the sacred cause for which men risk their lives.

She has no sympathy for moans about wartime trials and restrictions. She meets them every day and takes them in her stride.

She needs no picture stories to tell her the truth about war. With the sure instinct of wife and mother, she knows the agony of waiting and the bitterness of loss.

"Millions" and "billions" mean nothing to her. But shrewdly she senses that one inescapable price of victory is hard cash in fabulous amounts. And she knows who must supply it.

Watch her when the time comes to buy Victory Bonds! Has she savings of her own? She lends them eagerly. The family savings which her work and thrift have made possible? They must buy a full measure of victory to the last dollar, or she will know the reason why!

And alongside her realism for today she builds her plan for tomorrow. She fully intends that those savings shall make it come true!

North Alberta Boosts Total In Loan Drive

Brilliant sunshine which is rapidly drying out country roads is resulting in a sharp upswing in returns from the rural sections of Northern Alberta in the Eighth Victory loan campaign, and Monday $442,650 was invested compared with $374,100 on the corresponding day of the Seventh Victory loan. This is an increase of $68,550.

The cumulative total for the first seven days of the loan is $3,747,150 to bring rural Northern Alberta to within 4.5 points of the half way mark of the $8,210,000 quota set for this section of the province. This is $990,900 in excess of the $2,756,250 invested in the last loan up to the end of the seventh day when only 38.9 per cent of that loan's quota was achieved compared with 45.5 per cent of the quota in this loan.

Bentley division still leads all Northern Alberta rural points with 178 per cent of its quota achieved. In second place is Mercoal with 136 per cent.

TIED FOR THIRD

The Holden-Bruce and Luscar divisions are tied for third place with 91 per cent of quota reached, and Westlock-Clyde is in fourth slot with 81 per cent.

Twenty-one rural divisions have passed the 50 per cent mark, and 10 are in the 40 per cent brackets.

May Fight Japs Until Early 1948

MONTREAL, May 1—(CP)—Japan may not be defeated until early 1948, Col. M. T. Tchou, former secretary to Chiang Kai-shek, said here yesterday in a press interview. Japanese troops have entrenched themselves so thoroughly in China they may resist Allied attacks for two or three years yet, Col. Tchou added.

Leo Dolan, Ottawa, To Address Parley

Chief speaker at the Northern Alberta Aviation Conference to be held in Edmonton May 8 and 9, will be Leo Dolan, chief of the Canadian Travel and Tourist Bureau, Ottawa, it was announced Tuesday by Reg. T. Rose, secretary of the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce.

The conference is being sponsored by the aviation committee of the chamber, a good response is being received from municipalities throughout the central and northern sections of the province, according to Mr. Rose. It is expected that about 200 delegates will attend the convention.

In addition to provincial government and local aviation experts, guest speakers will include Stuart Graham, superintendent of Air Regulations, Ottawa, and W. F. English, vice-president of Trans-Canada Air-lines, Winnipeg.

HOME ON LEAVE.—Flt. Lt. W. C. M. Barrell, formerly on the staff of No. 3 Recruiting Centre, RCAF, in Edmonton who is home on leave from his duties at Winnipeg. He is now serving in the department dealing with rehabilitation of air force personnel. The officer was formerly on the staff of the Leduc high school.

Edmonton Soldiers Promoted Overseas

Two Edmontonians and three residents of other parts of the province were included in a list of promotions released Tuesday by national defence headquarters. All are serving with the Canadian Army overseas.

The Edmonton men are Hon. Capt. A. O. Clements, RCA, to be honorary major, and Lieut. Robert W. Ross (CIC) to be captain. Also promoted to the rank of captain are Lieutenants Fred J. Hatch, RCA, of Oyen; Douglas A. Jamison, CAC, Vulcan; and Robert O. Lundgren, RCA, Vulcan.

There were 142 members of the Canadian Army overseas included in the list.

Montreal & Toronto

MONTREAL, May 1.—(CP)—C.P.R. and Quebec junior mines accounted for the lion's share of trading today up to the final hour on the stock exchange and curb market. C.P.R. backed up a fraction in fact of the sale of a number of fairly large-sized blocks of the stock. Market students reported sellers were British holders.

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, May 1—(AP)—Further profit cashing in today's stock market cut numerous leaders down fractions to more than two points on expanding volume.

Cautious selling persisted on the idea V-E day virtually was at hand and that, while this may have been discounted marketwise to a certain extent, a sizeable technical correction of the lengthy drive to eight-year peaks might accompany German collapse. Peace-rated issues still maintained a semblance of stability but some of these stumbled as reconversion doubts revived.

Canadian Wheat In Keen Demand

WINNIPEG, May 1—(CP)—Canadian wheat was in keen demand today on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange with traders crediting the United Kingdom with taking 4,000,000 bushels.

No important domestic business was reported during the day but a cargo of oats was reported sold to the United States late yesterday.

Rye futures closed an erratic session ⅛ higher to 1¼ lower with May at $1.49¼, July $1.43⅞ and October $1.27⅜. Trading was authorized in the December future which closed at $1.25⅛.

Heavy deliveries of May rye through the clearing house added some hesitation to the market.

BUTTER PRICES

No. 1, 34½; No. 2, 32½; No. 3, 30½.

CREAM PRICES

Prices for cream delivered to Edmonton creameries: Special grade, 45; No. 1, 44; No. 2, 38; off grade, 33.

All prices include government bonus of 10c to farmers.

EGG PRICES

Dealers now paying to country shippers: A large, 29; A medium, 27; A pullet, 21; grade B, 24; grade C, 18-19.

Wholesale to retail: A large, 37; A medium, 35; A pullet, 29; grade B, 31; grade C, 27.

Retail to consumers: A large, 44; A medium, 42; A pullet, 36; grade B, 38; grade C, 32.

A feature of this week's egg market report is that receipts are fractionally less than for the previous week. Inclement weather resulting in muddy roads may be the influencing factor as the peak week for the season is still expected to be the last week of April. Quality shows a further slight deterioration, but per cent. grade A continues satisfactory for the season of year. The movement of eggs through export channels totals 25 cars, 7 of which moved to seaboard for shell export, 6 were oil dipped and transferred to storage for fall export, 10 were directed to the local drying plant and 2 cars were directed to breaking from freezing. A large lot of A large rolled to Prince Rupert, B.C., and one car of grade C rolled to Saskatoon. Sales to retailers are reported as satisfactory.

POULTRY PRICES

The poultry market continues quiet. Receipts of fowl now very light. One small shipment of frozen chicken moved to Prince Rupert, and other sales were confined to local retail trade, demand from which is reported good. Paying prices to country shippers remain unchanged at live No. 1 fowl 5 lbs., 17c, No. 2 fowl 10c. Broilers, 2 to 3½ lbs. live weight continue to be guaranteed on basis of 30c per lb. Milkfed A, 28c per lb.; milkfed B, grade B 26c, grade C 22c, less 6c per head as a killing charge.

HATCHERY OUTLOOK

This week's summary is based on reports received from 20 hatcheries with a total egg setting capacity of 2,098,408. They report that 3,738,696 eggs were set since start of season, and chicks produced 1,936,747, with hatchability of 63.8 per cent. All hatcheries report that the month of April will produce the heaviest volume of chicks for any month since start of season, and that advanced bookings for the month of May are heavy to the 15th of the month with encouraging prospects for the latter half of the month. Movement of cockerel chicks has been very satisfactory the last few weeks, especially in the case of heavy breeds. New Hampshires lead in popularity of chicks produced, with Leghorns very much in second place.

Hatching capacity for 1945 has now been measured and is found to be 2,208,938, compared to 2,035,720 for 1944, which means an increase of 8.5 per cent. for the present season over last year.

Blood testing results for the 1944-5 season on ROP flocks are the best on record for this province, and of 15,162 birds tested the pullorum reaction was .0009 on the first tests and no second tests were necessary. Only one flock was over 1 per cent. reaction and this flock was 1.90.

This Week In Farming

Every Tuesday by Stanley A. Williams

Early Care, Feeding Calves Determines Future Welfare

The feed and care received by the calf during the first six months will determine to a large extent, its future growth and development, says W. W. Cram, Dominion Experimental Farm, Indian Head, Sask.

If the calf is to be hand-fed it should be taken from the cow at birth or when from twelve to twenty-four hours old, placed in a clean comfortable pen or box-stall and taught to drink by the finger method. The mother's milk should be fed for at least the first four or five days as the colostrum has a laxative effect which is necessary for the new calf.

Digestive troubles of the calf can be largely avoided if care is exercised in feeding at regular hours, weighing or measuring the correct amount of milk per feed, feeding all milk at 90 to 95 degrees F. and keeping the milk, pails, equipment and pens scrupulously clean.

OATS BONUS

The farmers of the prairie provinces of Canada who marketed oats in the crop year ended July 31, 1944, will participate in the distribution of $8,867,004 from the oats equalization fund, Hon. J. A. MacKinnon, minister of trade and commerce, announced last week. The payment will be made on 151,596,325 bushels, which includes 8,241,813 bushels transferred from farm-to-farm or farm-to-feeders and upon which advance equalization payments were made. This will represent a payment of 5.849 cents bushel on oats marketed during the 1943-44 crop year.

The following table shows the approximate amount of money that the farmers of each province will receive.

	Approximate Value
Manitoba	$1,500,000
Saskatchewan	5,000,000
Alberta	2,300,000

Growers' cheques are now being prepared and will be ready for distribution early in May, the announcement said.

WHEAT SITUATION

On April 20 the supply of Canadian wheat in Canadian and United States positions was 332.9 million bushels as compared with 324.1 million bushels a year ago.

Deliveries of wheat to country elevators during the week under review totalled 3,673,000 bushels.

Marketings of all grains in the prairie provinces from August 1, 1944, to April 13, 1945, totalled 450.3 million bushels. The following table shows deliveries by variety and province for the 1944-45 crop year up to April 13.

FARMERS' RECORD

The record of Canadian farmers during the war years is something of which the nation might well be proud. The farmers of Canada have provided the people of this Dominion with an enormous quantity of food at relatively low prices during the entire five and a half years of war. No nation anywhere in the world has been better fed. Food production has very nearly doubled during the war years.

In addition to supplying ample food for Canadian people, the farmers of this country have supplied great quantities of food to the people of the United Kingdom—wheat, pork, beef, dairy and poultry products and so on. In fact in November, 1943, Hon. Malcolm MacDonald, British high commissioner to Canada stated: "Without the help of the Canadian farmers Britain would have lost the war two years ago." Since the war began Canadian farmers have supplied the British people with over three billion pounds of pork.

Furthermore, Canadian farmers have supplied food for Greece, Russia, South Africa, Bermuda, India, Egypt, France, Belgium, Greenland, Iceland, British West Indies and a number of other countries.

Last year prairie farmers provided several hundred million bushels of grain to feed United States livestock at a very critical time, thus preventing a serious depletion in the herds and flocks so vital to that nation. Then when Eastern Canada suffered a severe drouth in 1943 prairie farmers supplied millions of bushels of feed grains, thus saving the herds and flocks of Ontario, Quebec and the Maritime provinces.

BEREFT OF HELP

All this has been accomplished by a group of aging farmers bereft of hired help and without an adequate supply of farm implements. Furthermore, the prices received were moderate and substantially below the levels prevailing in World War I. For instance, the average farm price of wheat during the present war is only 72½ cents a bushel as compared with $1.48 a bushel during World War I. The prices of other farm products have been kept down by official decree so that the cost of living in Canada has risen only about 18 per cent after five and half years of war.

In the pre-war period, the United Kingdom was the largest consumer of sugar on a per-capita basis, and Canada was the smallest, according to the second report of a special joint committee of the Combined Food Board, reporting on food consumption levels in the United States, Canada and the United Kingdom.

In 1944 the United States is expected to have the largest per-capita consumption of sugars and syrups, and the United Kingdom the least. As all three countries are dependent upon offshore sources for a substantial portion of their sugar supply, some decline in consumption is to be expected during wartime. Reductions of about 10 per cent in the United States and Canada, and of approximately 30 per cent in the United Kingdom have occurred since the pre-war period.

SUGAR RATIONED

Sugar was rationed at an early date in all three countries, and the level of consumption has remained fairly constant since rationing became effective. Relatively small increases in consumption are expected in all three countries in 1944, as compared with 1943. Preliminary estimates for 1944 of food supplies entering into civilian consumption per year per head of population place the figures as follows: Sugars and syrups, United States, 94.9 lb.; Canada, 89.6 lb.; Britain, 75.6 lb. Pre-war figures were, United States, 106.7 lb.; Canada, 103.3 lb.; Britain, 109.7.

Prudential Life Buys Victory Bonds

TORONTO, May 1.—With the purchase of $15,000,000 of Canadian Eighth Victory Loan Bonds, the Prudential Insurance Co. of America has increased its holdings of Dominion War Bonds to a total of $75,000,000. The purchase was disclosed by A. H. Traynor, Dominion Supervisor of the Prudential Insurance Co. of America, at his offices, 80 King St. West, Toronto. Announcement of the transaction was received from the company's home office at Newark, New Jersey, U.S.A., from Franklin D'Olier, president. "Once again," this executive said, "the Prudential is privileged to participate in a Canadian War Loan and we do so in the spirit of mutual regard that has always marked the way of life in both Canada and the United States. With Victory within our grasp there must be no let-down in the great common effort."

Deny Nazi Haven

MADRID, May 1. — (AP) — The foreign ministry denied last night stories published abroad that Spain, and particularly the Balearic Islands, have become a haven for Nazi war criminals. These reports, the ministry said in a communique, "even go so far as to declare an airdrome has been expressly prepared in those islands for this purpose."

Lost Only Picture Of Soldier-Husband

Mrs. Winnifred V. Wheaton of 11629 84 street has just cause to believe that there are people in the world just mean-minded enough to do anything. The wife of Pte. Thomas J. Wheaton, serving in Germany with the RCEME, Mrs. Wheaton has suffered the loss of the only picture she has of her husband.

According to the soldier's wife, her purse, containing the picture, along with her registration certificate, unemployment insurance card, and also the only picture she has of her brother, Pte. Samuel George, recently wounded in Holland, was "snatched" from where she had placed it on a department store counter. In the purse, besides the pictures, was about $10 in bills.

Mrs. Wheaton says she isn't worried about the money, but she would very much like to have the pictures returned. The incident occurred about two weeks ago, and despite advertising in the newspapers for the return of the pictures, they're still missing.

Pte. Wheaton has been overseas for four years, is not expected home until the "cease fire" rings out on the Western front.

2,628,529 Germans Taken Since D-Day

WASHINGTON, May 1.—(AP)—The Allies bag of prisoners from D-Day in Normandy through last Wednesday totalled 2,628,529. Announcing this yesterday, the war department said more than 317,000 were taken in the Ruhr pocket alone. In the last seven weeks more than 1,500,000 were captured. The number grew swiftly with the Allied break-through of Germany's Rhine defences, the department said.

SASKATOON, Sask., May 1—(CP)—John H. Currie, farmer and implement dealer of Vonda, will contest the federal constituency of Rosthern on behalf of the Progressive Conservative party. He was the unanimous choice of a nominating convention held here last night.
